WILSON REVIEWS HIS THREE YEARS AS THE NATION'S PRESIDENT

Makes Public Speech Delivered Confidentially at National Press Club on Last Monday Night.

TELLS OF DIFFICULTIES

Speaks Particularly of Motives Which Have Guided Handling European Situation.

HAS SPENT NIGHTS AWAKE

America Wants Peace, But She Must Also Have Respect.

Washington, May 16. — President Wilson tonight made public the frank and intimate review of his three years in the White House and his impressions of foreign and domestic problems, delivered confidentially last night before Washington correspondents gathered at the National Press Club. He spoke of the difficulties of the Presidency, and particularly of the motives which have guided his handling of the European situation.

America is for Peace.

America, the President said, is for peace, because she loves peace and believes the present war has carried the nations engaged "so far that they cannot be held to ordinary standards of responsibility." But, he added, the United States has grown to be one of the great nations of the world and, therefore, must act "more or less from the point of view of the rest of the world."

"If I cannot retain my moral influence over a man except by occasionally knocking him down," he said; "if that is the only basis on which he will respect me, then, for the sake of his soul I have got to occasionally knock him down."

Kept Awake Nights.

The President declared he had been kept awake nights considering the European situation, because there might come a time when the United States would have to do what it did not desire to do, and "the great burden on my spirit has been that it has been up to me to choose when that time came." He added that he did not conceive that he had been elected President to do as he pleased. "If I were, it would have been very much more interesting," he said.

Impressions of public men, as a class, were given frankly by the President, with the comment that some grew and some swelled. He also discussed the relations of the newspapers to the affairs of the nation and sounded a warning that false information about foreign affairs was more than likely to lead to trouble.

The President's remarks as originally delivered, were read by him carefully before it was made public, but no important portions were eliminated, and the wording was not changed substantially.

In beginning his speech, the President made reference to his previous visit to the club and to his statement at that time that he felt constantly a personal detachment from the Presidency.

Personal Inconvenience of President.

"I am constantly reminded as I go about as I do some times at the weekend," he said, in that connection, "of the personal inconvenience of being President of the United States. If I want to know how many people live in a small town all I have to do is to go there and they at once line up to be counted. I might, in a census-taking year, save the census takers a great deal of trouble by asking them to accompany me and count the people on the spot. Sometimes, when I am most beset, I seriously think of renting a pair of whiskers or of doing something else that will furnish me with an adequate disguise, because I am sorry to find that the cut of my jib is unmistakable and that I must sail under false colors, if I am going to sail incognito.

"Yes, as I have matched my experiences with my anticipations, I, of course, have been aware that I was taken by surprise because of the prominence of many things to which I had not looked forward."

When dealing with domestic affairs, he continued, we are dealing with things that to Americans are more or less calculable, but when the fortunes of the country are subject to the incalculable winds of passion that are blowing through the utmost parts of the world, "there is no knowing what turn of the wheel of fortune may wrest control from the guiding hand."

Great Strain Upon a President.

"It makes no difference how deep the passion of the nation lies," said the President, "that passion may be so overborne by the rush of fortune in circumstances like those which now exist that you feel the sort of—I had almost said resentment, that a man feels when his own affairs are not within his own hands. You can imagine the strain upon the feeling of any man who is trying to interpret the spirit of his country when he feels that that spirit cannot have its own way beyond a certai npoint. And one of the greatest

SUPPORT IS ASKED OF THE CHURCHES

To Raise Funds to Assist the Destitute and Starving Millions in the War Zone.

100,000 APPEALS MAILED

Ministers Throughout Country Asked to Make May 28 Memorial Day for Taking Collections for the War Sufferers.

New York, May 16.—An appeal to make May 28 a memorial Sunday when funds would be raised for war sufferers through collections taken in churches throughout the country, was mailed to 100,000 American ministers tonight by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The purpose of the council is not only to inaugurate nation-wide efforts to assist destitute and starving persons in Europe and Asia, but to begin "a movement that shall prepare our Christian churches to play the vital part that belongs to them in the period of reconstruction and reconciliation that must follow the close of the war."

Funds raised on May 28 will be sent to the treasurer of any relief committee which may be designated among the various organizatione listed in the appeal. These include committees which are assisting people in Belgium northern France, Serbia, Poland, East Prussia, Armenia, Persia, Austria, Syria, Turkey and Montenegro and in the various organizations listed in the similar work is being done by the international Young Men's Christian Associatio.

Crisis Transcends Ordinary Rules

The appeal points out that "some churches do not favor special appeals," but that "a crisis transcends all ordinary rules and even church rules."

The appeal is the fruit of "nine thoughtful representative conferences," among church leaders and of a journey by the Rev. Charles S. MacFarland, general secretary of the council, during which he interviewed many responsible men both in Europe and America. The co-operation of church federations, ministerial associations, denominational boards, religious journals and kindred institutions will be sought, and the initial appeal will be followed up "so long as necessity may exist."

M'CRAW ON TRIAL FOR JASPER ALLEN'S DEATH

Hillsville, Va., May 16.—Jasper Allen was shot and killed by Will McCraw in the home of Mrs. Brodie Martin on the Virginia- North Carolina line, five miles from Mount Airy, N. C., between 12 and 1 o'clock in the morning of March 18th as the result of a quarrel precipitated by a statement from McCraw in Allen's presence that "Wesley Edwards does not have the nerve people claim." This was the testimony of Mrs. Brodie Martin, who was the chief witness in the trial of McCraw, which began here today in the Carroll county circuit court.

According to Mrs. Martin, McCraw in conversation reflected on the courage of Wesley Edward, Allen's kinsman, whereupon Allen said:

"If any one don't believe it let them tin said, but in a few minutes returned over him."

Allen then left the room, Mrs. Martin said, but in a few minute sreturned in an angry mood. He said to McCraw: "You have thrown off on Wesley Edward and he is in the penitentiary."

The two men suddenly went together.

"I ran out of the house," said Mrs Martin. "I heard two shot sfired; and then a man who looked like Will McCraw ran from the house."

Mrs. Martin's testimony was substantially corroborated by Mrs. Hattie Houseman who was in the Martin home when the tragedy occurred.

Persons attending the trial today were searched for firearms. No weapons were found.

UNITED METHODISM IS A STEADFAST BEARER

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D. C.

Bishop Cranston, of the Northern, and Bishop Hendrix, of the Southern Church, Clasp Hands and Weep With Emotion.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 16. — The unification of American Methodism was advanced another step toward consummation today when, by a vote virtually unanimous, the 880 delegates to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church adopted the report of the special committee on unification, paving the way to an amalgamation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church.

The adoption of the report was the most important and far-reaching legislation enacted by a Methodist General Conference in many years, and was attended by a tremendous demonstration of enthusiasm. The great auditorium rang with cheers and applause as the aged Bishop Earl Cranston, who presided while the action was taken, and Bishop E. R. Hendrix, senior member of the board of bishops of the Southern Church, clasped hands upon the platform and wept with emotion.

Supreme Moment of His Life.

"This is the supreme moment of my life," cried Bishop Cranston.

"A marvelous result has been achieved," Bishop Hendrix said. "I pray that the whole Methodist body throughout the world may, more and more, see eye-to-eye, and Bishop Cranston and myself may live to stand jointly over the united general conference of united Methodism in America."

A terrific outburst of applause quickly gave way to song, as the delegates joined in the hymn, "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow," and then took up the strains of "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

On the platform with Bishop Cranston and Bishop Hendrix was one clergyman who attended the historic general conference of 1844, at New York, the last in which the Southern Church was represented before Methodism was split over the question of slavery. He is the Rev. Dr. Thompson H. Landon, of Bordentown, N. J.

Today's action does not unite the two branches of the Methodist denomination, but continues the negotiations for a reunion.

Los Angeles, May 16. — The trial of David Caplan on a charge of murder in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building ended today when the jury reported hopeless disagreement and was discharged. The jury had been out 72 hours.

HEARING IN STEAMER APPAM CASES CLOSES

Judge Waddill Promises to Render an Early Decision.

Counsel for German Government Closes Case Contending Status of Ship Cannot Be Determined by Federal Court.

Norfolk, Va., May 16.—With Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk, concluding the argument in behalf of the German government and Frederick R. Coudert and James K. Symmer, of New York, briefly replying for the British owners, the hearing in the Appam libel cases in the United States District court closed early today afternoon. Judge Edmund Waddill, presiding, took the cases under consideration. He promised prompt consideration and an early decision.

Mr. Hughes rested the case of the German government on the claim that the status of the prize ship Appam was a question between the State Department of the two nations concerned and that the Federal courts were without jurisdiction. He declared that England had recognized the contention of the defendants in the Civil War case of the prize Tuscaloosa, taken into St. Simons Bay, Cape Town, by the Confederate cruiser Alabama, commanded by Captain Semmes. The Tuscaloosa was seized, said Mr. Hughes, by the British authorities, but immeditaely released, on the contention of the Confederate commander had the right of asylum in the harbor. Mr. Hughes also contended that Lieutenant Berg's commission from Count Dohna, introduced by the libelants, made it unnecessary for the introduction of the Moewe's commission.

Mr. Hughes created quite a stir in court when in discussing Mr. Lansing's answer to Count von Bernstorff, introduced by the libellants he remarked that if it were sent to the Federal court here as a direction as to what the court should do in the matter of the Appam libel cases, it was a piece of impudence on the part of the Secretary. He questioned Secretary Lansing's accuracy as to history and law involved. He argued for a literal construction of the Prussian treat yof 1799.

In his reply Mr. Coudert took up the Tuscaloosa case at length, declared it was a tender and not a prize, therefore not a parallel case.

MORE THAN 2,500 PRISONERS TAKEN BY THE AUSTRIANS

MUCH ARTILLERY SEIZED

Artillery Continues Active in Belgium and France—Further Advance by Russians.

Progress for the Austrians against the Italians in Southern Tyrol and on the lower Izonso and a continuation of the Russian advance through Kurdistan toward Mosul, the Russian objective being the Bagdad railway, are related in the latest official communications from Vienna and Petrograd. In the other theatres there is much artillery fighting, but little activity by the infantry.

The Austrians in the region south and southeast of Trent in southern Tyrol are reported by Vienna to have captured Italian trenches at several points taken prisoner 2,565 men, among them 65 officers and captain, seven guns and 11 machine guns. The entry of Austrians into Italian trenches east of Monfalcone, near the head of the gulf of Trieste, and the capture here of additional officers and men also is recorded by Vienna.

Petrograd reports that the Russian force which recently drove out the Turks from the Rowanduz region is continuing its progress westward toward Mosul and the Tigris river region and drawing nearer to the Bagdad railway. To the northwest, around Diarbekr, the Turks attempted an attack on the Russians but were repulsed.

Artillery Continues Active.

On the greater portion of the line in Belgium and France the artillery of both the Germans and the Entente Allies continues active being especially vigorous in Belgium in the regions of Dixmude and St. Georges and in France around the Avocourt wood, Hill 304 and Lemort Homme, northwest of Verdun The Germans have directed another infantry attack against the French positions west of Hill 304 for the possession of which there has been much sanguinary fighting, but the maneuvre was again checked by the French curtain of fire.

The Germans in the lake region between Dvinsk and Vilna attacked and occupied advanced Russion trenches near Lake Dolje. The Russians, however, in a counter attack expelled the invaders and drove them back to their former positions. In the lower Stripa region of Galicia the Teutons launched an attack against the Russian trenches, but were repulsed.

Trans-Continental Joint Session Held

PRESIDENT CARTY, IN NEW YORK, CALLS INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS TOGETHER IN SIX CITIES.

New York, May 26.—When President John J. Carty,of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, banged his gavel on his desk at the society's building here tonight he called to order not only the members assembled in this city, but in San Francisco, Chicago, Atlanta, Philadelphia and Boston for a national meeting of the organization. The meeting rooms in each of the six cities were connected by telephone.

Each member and guest had an individual receiver and was able to participate in a joint trans-continental session and to hear addresses by speakers in all the cities.

A telegram from President Wilson was read by President Carty here to all six meetings and brief addresses were made from New York by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas A. Edison. The president, in his message congratulated the engineers on their accomplishment "of the work the institute is doing in the developing of the country's resources."

After each meeting had transacted its local business and listened to addresses by speakers present at the widely separated gatherings resolved themselves into a general meeting. President Carty, in New York, asked: "Is there any other business to come before the meeting?"

From across the continent came the voice of A. H. Holbrook, in San Francisco, offering a resolution to spread a record of the proceedings upon the minutes of the institute, "where, for generations to come, it will serve as an inspiration to engineers everywhere and mark an epoch in the history of American engineering achievement."

Prof. Chas. R. Cross, in Boston, seconded the motion, and J. H. Tracy, in Philadelphia, offered an amendment to send to each of the speakers a copy of the resolution. The amendment was seconded by Bancroft Gherardi, in Boston, accepted by Mr. Holbrook in San Francisco, and Professor Cross in Boston, and carried by a concerted voice vote from all six cities.

BAPTISTS TO OPEN CONVENTION TODAY

Completion of $1,000,000 Homeless Church Fund to be Important Subject at Meeting.

A THIRD ALREADY RAISED

Proposed Educational Board May be Brought Up Also—Approximately 2,000 Expected to Register During Convention.

Asheville, N. C., May 16.—Plans for concentrating effort on completion of the $1,000,000 fund to aid the 4,000 homeless Baptist churches in the South will be one of the subjects to be brought to the front at the 61st annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, which opens here at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. While approximately one-third of this sum already has been raised, according to preliminary reports made public tonight by Rev. Dr. Louis B. Warren, of Atlanta, Ga., superintendent of the department of church extension, the work of aiding homeless churches has not been stressed pending completion ofe th $1,250,000 Judson Centennial fund.

This fund is for extension of evangelism in the foreign fields and its virtual completion was announced at the meeting last year at Houston, Texas.

Oppose Educational Board.

Another subject which probably will be brought on the floor of the convention will be the proposed formation of an educational board, as a separate organization from other boards within control of the convention. Many Southern Baptists, already here, have expressed themselves as opposed to establishment of such a board on the ground that such work now is cared for by the Home Mission Board and that to add another board would serve only to "multiply the machinery." The board, as planned, would exercise general supervision over the educational work of the Baptist churches in the South.

Tomorrow's sessions will be devoted chiefly to business sessions, including election of officers and preentation of various reports. Adoption of a programme for the sessions, which will last through May 22, also will be taken up.

Registration of delegates and getting accommodations for them took up the greater part of today as delegates came in on every train. The registration secretaries estimated tonight that some 1,500 persons would be duly accredited to the convention at the opening session tomorrow and that approximately 2,000 would register during the convention. The delegates represent more than 2,000,000 persons of the Baptist faith, virtually all residing south of Mason and Dixon's line, except for certain churches in Illinois, which several years ago left the Northern Baptist organization and joined with the Southerners.

ALL IS PLEDGED FOR THE NATION'S SAFETY

Resolutions Adopted by Veterans and Sons of Veterans.

Washington Puts in Bid for the Confederate Reunion Next Year—Old Soldiers Have a Get-Together Gathering.

Birmingham, Ala., May 16. — Both the United Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Veterans adopted resolutions at their meetings today pledging lives, fortunes and honor to the government of the United States, should it become necessary for the defense of this country.

Awards of prizes in the contest for the best essays on Confederate history given by the Sons' organization, were announced. The first prize of $20 went to Lloyd T. Everett, Washington, D. C., Camp 305, and second prize of $5 to A. H. Jennings, Lynchburg. Honorable mention was awarded to John W. Bale, of Rome, Ga.; J. C. Wise, Haymarket, Va.; W. A. Guy, of Laurel, Miss. The veterans will conclude with the election of officers tomorrow morning.

Washington today entered the contest for the next reunion, when Colonel Hilary Herbert, Secretary of the Navy under the last President Cleveland, arrived with the official invitations from the municipal authorities and the trade bodies of the capital. The Alabama division of veterans adopted resolutions endorsing Washington as the next convention city.

Memphis, Tenn., and Tulsa, Okla., delegations also were busy throughout the day corraling pledges of support for their respective cities. The selection of the next reupion city will be made tomorrow afternoon.

At a get-together gathering of the old soldiers this afternoon in Capitol square a massed band of 150 pieces furnished patriotic music, while the veterans greeted each other and exchanged reminiscences.

Boston, Mass., May 16.—The cruiser Tacoma, now out of commission at the Portsmouth navy yard, is to be transferred to the yard here as a receiving ship, it was announced today, succeeding the scout cruiser Salem.

POWERFUL FORCES DRIVING OTTOMANS

Russians Hope to Take Entire Historic Country Between the Tigris and Euphrates.

TURKS IN GREAT JEOPARDY

Mesopotamian Army Under Combined Pressure of Russians from Two Directions—Resistance to British Relaxed.

Petrograd, via London, May 16.—With the advance of Russian forces southward from the Urumiah region toward Mosul, in Assyria on the Tigris, which resulted recently in the occupation of Rivandouza, the Russians are now bringing fresh pressure of the most powerful sort upon the rear of the Turkish armies in Mesopotamia. The hope is now entertained in Petrograd of bringing not only Bagdad, the Holy City of the Caliphs, but the entire historic country lying between the Tigris and the Euphrates under Russian dominion.

The only serious obstacle between the Czar's army and Mosul is the ancient fortified city of Jezioeh-Ibn-Omar, on an island in the Tigris, 130 miles southeast of Diarbekr. It is believed that this city, with its antiquated defenses, will not be able long to delay the Russian advance. The progress of these forces already has broken the backbone of the Turkish communications between Diarbekr and Mosul.

Some 200 miles southward another group of Russian forces, drawn up on the Persian-Turkish border before Khanikin is prepared to strike through to Bagdad.

The combined pressure from these two directions upon the Turkish rear has placed the entire Turkish army in Mesopotamia, estimated at between six and seven divisions, in the greatest jeopardy. According to the latest dispatches the Turks have been forced to relax to a great extent their resistence to the British expeditionary army and rush troops northward. Thus it is thought the successes which have been won by the Russians will soon have an effect on the fortunes of the British campaign.

NUMBER OF JAPANESE ARE KILLED BY CHINESE REBELS

MANUFACTURERS BACK OF PLAN FOR DEFENSE

Resolution Urges Congress to Remove Alleged Defects in System of Federal Regulations of Railroads.

New York, May 16.—The manufacturing interests of the country were represented at the 20th annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers in session here, went on record today in support of a "broad, patriotic plan of military and naval preparedness." A resolution declared for such action by the government "wholly independent of partisan consideration and based upon the opinion and judgment of trained army and navy experts."

The association also passed a resolution urging Congress to remove the present alleged defects in the system of governmental regulation of the railroads, to the end that the railroads might yield sufficient earnings to attract investment and thus develop transportation facilities and open regions not now served.

Another resolution offered by the committee on industrial education recommended Federal aid for vocational education. It urged:

1—That Federal appropriations be allotted among the states upon a uniform basis and bear a uniform relation to appropriations made by the states for like purposes.

2—The creation of a Federal board of vocational education representative of the interests vitally concerned, manufacturing, commerce, labor and agriculture. The commission of education to be a member ex-officio. The board to elect one of its members chairman.

3—That the Federal bureau should be required to appoint advisory committees of five members each, representing industry, commerce, labor, agriculture, home making and general or vocational education.

Carranza and Advisers Understand Motives of Washington Government More Fully.

SCOTT MAKES HIS REPORT

Promises Made by Obregon and Approved by the First Chief Being Carried Out.

DE FACTO FORCES ACTIVE

Situation is Studied by President and His Cabinet.

Washington, May 16.—An optimistic view of the Mexican border situation was laid before President Wilson and his cabinet today by Secretary Baker, after a long conference with Major General Scott, chief of staff. General Carranza and his advisers now understand the motives of the Washington government more fully than ever before, as a result of the conference at El Paso, between Generals Scott and Funston and Obregon, said Mr. Baker, and tension along the international line has greatly relaxed.

General Scott believes the whole situation is less active than it has been at any time since the raid on Columbus, N. M.

Mexicans Feared Intervention.

General Obregon, it is learned, entered the conference with much apprehension as to the real purpose of General Pershing's swift march deep into Mexico in pursuit of Villa and his raiders. In Mexicans eyes, he said, it seemed as though a great force armed with artillery and all the impediments of war could not be moving merely in pursuit of one bandit chief and his handful of followers. Undoubtedly Obregon reflected fears felt in Mexico City that the expedition was in reality a step toward intervention.

The American conferees were able to convince the Mexican war minister and through him General Carraza, that its mission was only as described by President Wilson, to disperse or capture the bandits and return across the line. The striking accomplishment of Generals Scott and Funston lay in the fact that they succeeded in doing this without making any pledges as to when American troops would be recalled.

Obregon's Views Changed.

The change in General Obregon's views was clearly indicated by promises he made at the conclusion of the conference, promises approved by General Carranza and which official reports indicate now he is carrying out with promptitude and vigor. These pledges, interpreted as forming an unwritten agreement, included the following:

That 10,000 picked troops uder General Trevino, the ablest of the Carranza field commanders, occupy and police the territory about Parral, the southern limit of General Pershing's drive, and in other districts where there are no American troops.

That an effective patrol be thrown about the Mexican side of the Big Bend region of the Texas border to head off the Glenn Springs and Boquillas raiders;

That every effort be made to liberate Deemer, the American store-keeper, captured and carried away by the bandits, and;

That no troops will be moved from the forces in Sonora state through Pulpit Pass to operate in rear of General Pershing's forces.

While General Scott clearly stated to General Obregon that United States troops would stay in Mexico until Carranza forces had fully demonstrated their ability to handle the bandit situation, assurances were given that American troops would not operate in parts where Carranza forces were active. No attempts at co-operative troops movement will be made unless it be by arrangements of the local commanders, American and Mexican.

Orders Being Carried Out.

General Scott said today that recent reports of Carranza troop movements in the region south of General Pershing, in his opinion, showed General Obregon's orders were being carried out promptly.

General Obregon was in constant communication by telegraph during the conference, General Scott reported, and there is no question that his pledges as to steps the de facto government would take to demonstrate its ability to control the border situation were given only after they had been approved in Mexico City.

After the cabinet meeting today it was announced that there was no chaneg in the situation, and that the question of possible intervetion was ot discussed by the Presidet and his advisers. It was further stated that reports indicated slow but steady progress was being made by the defacto government in readjusting the revolution-shaken republic.

May Delay Negotiations.

State Department officials believed tonight that diplomatic negotiations with Mexico City may be delayed some time. Eliseo Arredondon, Mexican ambassador designate, had received no instructions from General Carranza which

TICKETS MAILED OUT FOR PRIMARY IN JUNE

Around 1,600,000 of Them to be Distributed in State.

No Vote on Congressmen in Six of the Districts—No Ballot for State Auditor—New Corporations.
Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., May 16.—The State Board of Elections was getting out today the tickets for the State-wide all party primaries to be held June 3, there being around 1,600,000 tickets to be distributed as the supply that must reach every precinct in every county in the State before the date for the primaries. There are 600,000 State Democratic and 400,000 State Republican tickets; 600,000 Democratic national ballot tickets and 400,000 national Republican.

The national Democratic tickets show opposing candidates in the Second, Sixth, Seventh and Tenth districts, there being no congressman ballot provided in the other districts for the reason that under the law, where there was but one entry for an office that entry amounts to nomination on the party ticket, no vote being necessary in the primaries. The National Republican ticket shows ballot for Congress only in the Ninth district. Under the same construction of the law there will be no balloting in the primaries for State auditor, there being no opposition to Col. W. P. Wood, who is therefore already the party nominee.

Miss Bettie Hooke, of Fremont, and Miss Emily Walker, of Raleigh, have been appointed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner to the summer school scholarships at George Peobody College provided by the Montgomery-Ward Co.

A charter is issued for the Newport Manufacturing Co., of Greensboro, capital $25,000 authorized and $12,500 subscribed by A. V. Caldwell, H. B. Caldwell and others, for general timber land development and operation of saw mills and woo working plants.

An amendment to the charter of the Everlasting Window Shade Co., of Dunn, Harnett county, changes the name to the Springless Shade Co., and increases the capital from $10,000 to $50,000. C. R. Young is the president of the corporation.

points of strain upon me, if I may be permitted to point it out, was this:

"There are two reasons why the chief wish of America is for peace. One is that they love peace and have nothing to do with the present quarrel; and the other is that they believe the present quarrel has carried those engaged in it so far that they cannot be held to ordinary standards of responsibility and that, therefore, as some men have expressed it to me, since the rest of the world is mad, why should we not simply refuse to have anything to do with the rest of the world in the ordinary channels of action? Why not let the storm pass, and then, when it is all over, have the reckonings? Knowing that from both these two points of view the passion of America was for peace, I was, nevertheless, aware that America is one of the nations of the world; not only, but one of the chief nations of the world—a nation that grows more and more powerful, almost in spite of herself; that grows morally more and more influential even when she is not aware of it, and if she is to play the part which she covets, it is necessary that she should act more or less fromt he point of view of the rest of the world."

Must Have Respect.

"If I cannot retain my moral influence over a man except by occasionally knocking him down; if that is the only basis upon which he will respect me, for the sake of his soul, I have got occasionally to knock him down. You know how we have read in—isn't it in Ralph Connor's stories of Western life in Canada?—that all his sky pilots are ready for a fracas at any time, and how the ultimate salvation of the souls of their parishioners depends upon their using their fists occasionally.

"If a man will not listen to you quietly in a seat, sit on his neck and make him listen; just as I have always maintained, particularly in view of certain experiences of mine, that the shortest road to a boy's moral sense is through his cuticle. There is a direct and, if I may be permitted the pun, a fundamental connection between the surface of his skin and his moral consciousness. You arrest his attention first in that way and then get the moral lesson conveyed to him in milder ways, that, if he were grown up, would be the only ways you would use.

"So I say that I have been aware that in order to do the very thing that we are proudest of, the ability to do, there might come a time when we would have to do it in a way that we would prefer not to do it; and the great burden on my spirits, gentlemen, has been that it has been up to me to choose when that time came. Can you imagine a thing more calculated to keep a man awake at nights than that? Because, just because I did not feel that I was the whole thing and was aware that my duty was a duty of interpretation, how could I be sure that I had the right elements of information by which to interpret truly?

People Thinking for Themselves.

"The people of the United States are not asking anybody's leave to do their own thinking, and are not asking anybody to tip them off what they ought to think. They are thinking for themselves, every man for himself; and you do not know and, the worst of it is, since the responsibility is mine I do not know what they are thinking about. I have the most imperfect means of finding out, and yet I have got to act as if I knew. That is the burden of it, and I tell you, gentlemen, it is a pretty serious burden, particularly if you look upon the office as I do—that I am not put there to do what I please. If I were it would have been very much more interesting than it has been. I am put here to interpret, to register, to suggest, and, more than that, and much greater than that, to be suggested to."

Referring to the differences in inpreting the thought of America and in dealing with foreign affairs, the speaker told the newspapermen that was one reason he had urged them "not to know more than the State Department knows about foreign affairs." Some of them, he said, had a singular range of omniscience and he was constantly taken by surprise in regard to decision to be his own. Continuing he said:

"Now that is pretty dangerous, gentlemen, because it happens that remarks start fires. There is tinder lying everywhere, not only on the other side of the water, but on this side of the water, and a man that spreads sparks about is more responsible for something a great deal worse than burning a town on the Mexican border. Those thoughts may be bandits. They may be raiders. Thoughts may be invaders; thoughts may be disturbers of international peace and when you reflect upon the importance of this country keeping out of the present war you will know what tremendous elements we are dealing with. We are all in the same boat.

"If somebody does not keep the processes of peace going, if somebody does not keep their passions disengaged, by what impartial judgment and suggestion is the world to be aided in a solution when the whole thing is over? If you are in a conference in which you know nobody is disinterested, how are you going to make a plan? I tell you this, gentlemen, the only thing that saves the world is the little handful of disinterested men that are in it.

The President said he had found few disinterested men and that he tied to them as to an anchor. They are men, he said, who would give their lives for America not caring whether anybody heard they had given their lives for it; willing to die in obscurity if only they might serve.

"A friend of mine says that every man who takes office in Washington, either grows or swells," he continued in lighter vein, "and when I give a man an office I watch him carefully to see whether he is swelling or growing. The mischief of it is that when they swell they do not swell enough to burst. If they would only swell to the point where you might insert a pin and let the gases out, it would be a great delight. But the men who grow, the men who think better a year after they are put in office than they thought when they were put in office, are the balance wheel of the whole thing."

"I have come through the fire since I talked to you last," he said. "Whether the metal is purer than it was, God only knows; but the fire has been there, the fire has penetrated every part of it and if I may believe my own thoughts I have less partisan feeling, more impatience of party maneuver, more enthusiasm for the right thing, no matter whom it hurts, than I ever had before in my life."

Need for Progress.

Correspondents of papers that "have not yet heard of modern times" ought, he said, to send them as many intimations of modern movements as they are willing to print. To illustrate the need for progress if only to keep abreast of the times, he quoted an English writer who said that if you want to keep a white post while you could not let it alone because it would get black. He cited the expprience of "Alice in Wonderland," who, with the queen ran very hard only to find themselves where they started and learned that they had to run twice as fast to get anywhere else. He added:

"That is also true, gentlemen, of the world and of affairs. You have got to run fast merely to stay where you are, and in order to get anywhere, you have got to run twice as fast as that. That is what people do not realize.

"That is the mischief of these hopeless dams against the stream known as reactionaries and stand-patters, and other words of obloquy. That is what is the matter with them; they are not even staying where they were. They are sinking further and further back in what will sometime comfortably close over their heads as the black waters of oblivion. I sometime imagine that I see their heads going down and I am not inclined eeven to throw them a life preserver. The sooner they disappear the better. We need their places for people who are awake; and we particularly need now, gentlemen, men who will divest themselves of part ypassion and of personal preference and will try to think in the terms of America."

Concluding, the President said that if he did not go off for short week-end rests he could not stand the responsibilities of his position, and referred to his latest trip as follows:

"This week I went down the Potomac and up the James and substituted history for politics, and there was an infinite sweet calm in some of those old places that reminded me of the records that were made in the days that are past; and I comforted myself with the recollection that the men who were members are the disinterested men who gave us the deeds that have covered the name of America all over with lustre or imperishable glory."

SHIPPING BILL UP I NTHE HOUSE; TAKE VOTE FRIDAY

Claude Kitchin Champions the Measure—Republicans Oppose It.

Washington, May 16. — The administration shipping bill was taken up in the House under a special rule, which fixes 4 o'clock next Friday afternoon for the vote on the measure, and any amendments.

Many speeches were made today, Republicans generally being agains the bill and Democrats for it. Majority Leader Kitchin, who had not been counted on to champion the bill, spoke vigorously for it and told the Democrats if they would stand together it would be passed. He said, too, that if the majority attended steadily so as to maintain a quorum, Congress might carry out the legislative programme, pass all the appropriation bills and adjourn by July 20.

NEGRO WHO ASSAULTED SIX WHITE CHILDREN MUST DIE

Sentenced to be Electrocuted July 7 by Jury at Wise, Va.

Wise, Va., May 16.—Milton Mallory, a negro, was sentenced to electrocution by a jury at a special term of the circuit court here today for assaulting six young white girls, of Appalacha, Va., ranging in age from 5 to 11 years. He will be put to death July 7.

Mallory, a porter at an Appalachia hotel, according to evidence introduced, gave the children drugged candy.

The negro was hurried from Appalachia Saturday night and kept in the mountains over Sunday to prevent mob violence.

Fifteen persons left the court room today when Judge Skeen ordered a search for weapons.

BIRD USES BEACHY METHODS

Performs Aerial Somersaults, Glides and Flipflops to Win Sweetheart

(Philadelphia North American.)

If a Barnum or Forepaugh among the birds ever attempted to organize a circus, the roller, which lives in Africa, would be a candidate for a place as a flying trapeze artist and aerial tumbler. He will dive, turn flipflops, glide and perform other thrillers to delight the professional acrobat and the blase audience. Even the gymnastic monkey could learn a trick from this bird.

He performs his tricks mostly when he's courting. His lady friend, perched on the limb of a convenient tree, is his audience. The roller starts off with a flight straight up in the air to considerable height, singing "rack-rack-rack" as he ascends.

From his height he begins to tumble. First he throws himself backward and turns a somersault, as though he were falling. Perhaps he does it to frighten the little miss sitting on the limb of the tree. Then he catches his balance again and takes another plungs, this time straight down, and finally glides away to the limb where sits his sweetheart.

Wallace, N. C., May 16.—A puppy which proved to have rabies bit the little three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells, living near here. The child was taken to Raleigh immediately for treatment. Four little negroes, bitten by the same dog, also were taken to Raleigh.

"I WOULD SUFFER FOR HOURS AFTER EATING," SHE SAYS

Friends and Neighbors Marvel at Rapid Gains of Modiste---Added 14 Pounds on 5 Bottles.

"Honestly, I am getting so fat I am really ashamed to tell how much I have gained, and the change in my general appearance is so wonderful that my friends and neighbors are wondering what I have been doing with myself, and when they ask me I just tell them I have been taking Tanlac. I have just finished my fifth bottle; I have gained fourteen pounds." The speaker was Miss Eva Clay, modiste, whose business address is 705 North Brevard street, Charlotte.

"I always enjoyed very good health, up until five years ago, when I began having indigestion, which gradually developed into a very bad form of stomach trouble. This trouble began pulling me down and I finally got so I could not eat anything at all scarcely, and had to diet myself continually. I had to avoid sweets of all kinds and always after eating I would suffer for hours.

"I bought Tanlac. Of course, I expected it to help me, but if anyone had told me that there was a medicine on earth that would help me like Tanlac, I would not have believed them. It just filled me with new life, from the very first dose.

"I am no longer nervous, and can now sleep like a child. In fact, I feel like a person who had been made all over again."

Tanlac is sold only in Wilmington, by the Bellamy Drug Store, where the Tanlac Man explains its merits daily. There is a Tanlac druggist in every town.—adv.

Today And A Generation Hence

The flight of time makes us think of the future. The baby of today reflects what greatness may be acquired when he grows up. And any influence that brings relief to the expectant mother is the first and greatest of obligations. There is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that has been a safeguard, a helpful daily influence, to a host of women. Applied externally to the muscles they become pliant, they stretch without undue pain, there is an absence of distress, the nerves are soothed by taking away the burden of leaving all to just natural conditions.

We do not know to what extent the comfort and ease of the expectant mother influences the mental development of the child. Its physical nature, however, must be greatly aided. And it may easily be understood why with a restful nervous system, a calm anticipation and a joyous expectancy, there can be none of those harassing disturbances to provoke nervous conditions.

There is in "Mother's Friend" the direct and immediate help that all expectant mothers require. Used by their own hand, guided by their own minds, they learn at once the blessed relief from morning sickness resulting from undue stretching. They experience daily calm and nightly rest. It is indeed "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any druggist. Then write Bradfield Regulator Co., 710 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for one of the most entertaining and valuable little books ever presented. It is worth writing for.

TAR HEELS COME BACK WITH FURY AND WIN FROM NORFOLK

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 16.—Coming back with a fury the Champs annexed today's clash from Norfolk by a score of 6 to 2. While Teague was journeying with ease and would not have been scored upon but for the erratic work of his teammates, McGalis was oft in trouble, yielding eight hits in two and a fraction innings to be finally driven from the mound in favor of Porray, who failed to stem the hitting.

Teague was a complete master and of the five safe ones that he allowed there was not a single one in the same inning.

The visitors took one run in the opener on two connected errors while their last one came in the eighth after two were out and a pop to center was muffed. The Tar Heels appeared to be able to clout the ball often but off McGalis they lacked timeliness and a fast double in the opener saved a score; while in the next two frames the side was retired with the bases choaked.

The Champs scored first in the third, Berger first up, hit safe and counted on three successive singles and with the corners filled McGalis walked Talbot, sending in the untieing run. In the fifth the Tar Heels fell to porray and with the aid of an error sent one man across the rubber while Talbot hit safe for another count and Edward scored two more on a two-ply thump to left. Some people say that this Nation is not liable to be attacked by any other nation. Maybe not, but there are two great alliances, either of which might issue a few orders for us to obey. We may have to take orders from them, just as we have been putting up with their imposition for nearly two years.

EDITOR, BOOSTER AND CANDIDATE

We have to hand it to Editor H. B. Varner, of the Lexington Dispatch, for being all sorts of a constructive man. Incidentally he is a candidate for Congress in the Seventh district, but his "main works" is being a live newspaper man, a promter of good roads building and a self starter for developing the livestock and creamery industries in his county. He is a pretty live candidate for Congress, but it is as a constructive Lexingtonian that he is made to shine. His natural gait is going some on the line of progress.

This refers to Editor Varner because he has devoted more time to progress than he has to being a candidate. He has been a booster and promoter of development for years without ever thinking about the day that his district might send him to Congress. He has been a candidate only a few months, but has been a constructive man all the time. He has spent thousands of dollars out of his own pocket to promote progress in his county. Years ago he paid the expenses of large delegations of farmers to Mecklenburg and other counties where they could get an object lesson as to the advantage of good roads. He is now liberally spending his own money to introduce better cattle and promote dairying in his county.

For three months he has been carrying on a livestock and dairy campaign. He is a whole chamber of commerce by himself and when he pulls off a campaign it knows that it has been pulled off. His livestock prize-winning campaign closed last Monday and it scored a success. He awarded seven pure-bred bulls and eight cream separators to Davidson county farmers who won them as prizes. The prize award came at the conclusion of his campaign for interesting the farmers in better blooded dairy cattle.

Every farmer in the county who did work either received younb buls or a cream separator. On the 26th of May the prize winners and a number of other leading farmers will be taken by Colonel Varner on a trip to Catawba county to study creamery and dairy methods and to catch on to the Catawba system of co-operative marketing of farm products. This is part of the campaign to establish the success of Davidson county's co-operative creamery by enlargening its supply of butter fat. It is expected that in addition to cross-breeding the domestic cattle of the county, the farmers will purchase many pure bred heifers and cows.

A husky leader in a city or county means everything, and Lexington and Davidson are fortunate in having such a live promoter as Editor Varner. He is his own publicity agent and has a paper of his own to do thousands of dollars' worth of free boosting for his city and county.

The Seventh district will look out after its own congressional campaign, and it could not make a mistake in choosing for Congress any of the candidates in the field.

A "PORK BARREL" VICTIM

We used to tremble when we saw "pork barrel" editorials in the good old Richmond Times-Dispatch, for we thought of the day when Richmond might want that 18-foot channel along the James to sea. Now that is what Richmond is figuring on as a waterway project and she ought to get it unless the congressmen have been choked off by newspapers which have been prolific of "pork barrel" editorials. Richmond ought to get that 18 foot channel because it is a meritorious project, is eminently feasible and is warranted by Richmond's commercial importance and prospects.

Appropriations for practical waterway and harbor developments to not belong in the "pork barrel" class, for the eminent members of the engineer corps of the army do not recommend any but meritorious and warrantable poojects. In fact, they turn down many and always give the government the benefit of the doubt when the prospective commerce to be developed does not appeal to their judgment as conscientious engineers and government officials. It is an insult to their intelligence, skill and technical knowledge to reflect on them as aiders and abetors of the alleged "pork barrel," which is no sich of a thing."

The South knows nothing of the "pork barrel." It can hardly get what it needs in the way of fair and legitimate Federal appropriations, but the metropolitan newspapers are so afraid that the South might raid the Treasury that their long suit editorialization concerns the p. b. New York herself is now about to become a victim of the metropolitan press, for the $700,000 appropriation for East river was cut out of the rivers and harbors bill.

We are satisfied that East river needs the money, and it is hoped that Congress will see its way clear to put the item back into the bill, for the whole country is concerned in the development of the great harbor of New York. New York also ought to be concerned in developing all the country's harbors and waterways, for the greater the commerce of the country the greater will become New York as its clearing house. New York ought not to be so provincial as not to realize this. However, "An Old Newspaper Man" writes this keen bit of sarcasm to the New York World:

"The proper way for the New York newspapers to aid in getting that $700,000 East River appropriation back into the River and Harbor bill is to proceed, even more forcibly than heretofore, with their criticisms of members of Congress who represent other sections of the country. The expressions "pork," "pork barrel" and "pork-barrel Congressmen" seem to flow freely from the pens of many metropolitan journalists. The metropolitan public is led to believe that the only genuine, simon-pure statesmen are those who will give New York what it wants and let other sections of the country do without the improvements, many of which are badly needed. Some knowledge of conditions existng in many sections of the United States, and some acquaintance with men who have represented those sections in Congress, have given me a thorough disgust for the tactics of those who seek to achieve their desires by slurring the 'other fellow.'"

That old newspaper man knows a thing or two. New York is a large-sized place in a very large country, with the very large and varied interdests of 103,000,000 people to be conserved, but when her press calls the continental members of Congress "pork barrel artists" and "peanut politicians" they are bound to rear back on their dignity and put the lid on the "pork barrel," so New York can't fall into it. New York ought to broaden up a little and then all of us will help her when she gets into trouble over purely meritorious projects.

CHARLESTON IS ELATED.

Charleston is elated because the Interstate Commerce Commission has granted to the railroads the privilege of giving Charleston low port rates on commodities from all cities in the Middle West. In the Charleston News and Courier of Monday several business men gave brief statements about it, but they did not feel at this time as if it were a good idea to give Charleston's plans and expectations away.

Mr. Charles McKimmick, commissioner of the freight adjustment committee of the chamber of commerce, said he was reluctant to discuss the proposition at this time, remarking that "there are numerous matters now involved in the subject that are not ripe for publication." He said, however, that the futule undoubtedly would see Charleston an export port for Western products and that the business may develop large proportions almost immediately. He did not think it advisable that certain phases be discussed at this time. It was agreed by all the business men that Charleston now has her opportunity to become an export port for other commodities than cotton. The News and Courier says editorially:

"The announcement that the interstate commerce commission has issued an order establishing through rates from all cities in the Middle West on all commodities to Charleston for export, marks the accomplishment of one of the two big things of this kind for which Charleston has been contending for nearly a decade. It opens the way at last, and for the first time, to the upbuilding of a great export business through this port.

"Charleston owes this opportunity now to the acute freight congestion which exists at all the principal North Atlantic ports; but the Interstate Commerce Commission has designated Charleston as the South Atlantic port the use of which can most readily relieve this congestion because of its location and because of the other advantages which it possesses as a port. There is a great volume of freight which is seeking an outlet to Europe. It is freight, moreover, of a kind for which vessels are available, but on account of the congestion at ports like New York and Philadelphia long delays are encountered in picking this freight out from other freight and transferring it to the waiting ships. At a time when big freight ships are worth thousands of dollars a day these delays are extremely costly. There is much of this preferred freight which ought normally to move through Charleston. Until now the rates have prevented this and the conditions have not been ripe.

"They are ripe now. The order of the Interstate Commerce Commission has been signed because it is believed that it will be possible to save enormously in time and money by making Charleston the point of export for a great part of the grain products and the iron and steel shipments for which Europe is clamoring; and the purpose is to divert to Charleston shipments of this character originating in that rich district of which Cincinnati, Louisville, New Albany, and Evansville, Ind.; East St. Louis, St. Louis, Memphis and Knoxville are leading cities.

"More and more things are at last beginning to come Charleston's way. Always it has been true that the hope of Charleston has been in the sea, but many adverse conditions have had to be overcome before that hope could be brought to fruition. There is still much to be done, but the tide is on the flood. Henceforth it should aid us forward. We shall not have to battle against it steadily as has been the case so long.

"The establishment of export rates for Charleston is a great forward movement, for these rates are to be permanent, and they are made at a time when it should be possible for Charleston to accomplish more in a few months than would have been practicable normally in as many years.

"It is not yet clear just what Charleston will be called upon to do locally in order to foster the export movement which the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission has made possible through this port. The business interests of the community can be trusted to give this phase of the matter their immediate concern. They will, we are sure, press forward diligently, continuing the efforts for the upbuilding of the port upon which they have been engaged for years, individually and collectively, through the chamber of commerce, with unremitting zeal and with a comprehensiveness of purpose for which they have thus far failed in many quarters to receive the credit which is rightly theirs."

If Charleston can get the ships, she can make the most of her opportunity. She lays much store on the prospects of export business to Europe, South America and the Orient by way of the Panama Canal.

MAKING THE MOST OF RESOURCES

Communities which are always wanting industries can get them by developing their immediate resources. Those resources of which Columbia can avail us and it is time to quit hunting somebody else to develop them and get both the benefit and credit.

Now and then a city which invites industries gets one, but cities which become industrial centers establish more industries than they get by means of invitations to promoters to do about. Columbia let Orangeburg walk away with that packing house, so if that capital distributing center wants something else it will have to go on and get it before Orangeburg sees it. However, there are nearby resources of whic hColumbia can avail herself, and with reference to two of them the Columbia Record has this to say:

"Now that Columbia has been successful in getting here a big plant for the making of veneer from the hard woods of our swamp forests, Orangeburg and Camden also are trying to locate such plants. We trust that they will be successful. We would like to see a big industry built up in Columbia and neighbor cities.

"Now that Columbia has been successful in locating sheds for granite workers, Winnsboro is making an effort to locate some of the same kind of enterprises. We wish her success. There is enough granite for Columbia to have a hundred sheds, each giving employment to 50 men; and then the industry would not be affected, but on the other hand would be helped, if every town in the granite zone had a number of shops. What The Record wishes to see is not a sporadic attempt, but a great industry, with Columbia as the seat, but with other cities also benefited."

Of course, when Columbia gets anything, Orangeburg, Camden, Winnsboro and even Doko are liable to want something just like it, so it is up to Columbia to see it first and get the start on Brookland and other suburban places.

It is a reproach on us to let our resources lie idle till others come along and reap a rich reward from them. Throughout the Carolinas we've got to quit being willing to do all the merchandising and farming and let somebody else establish all the factories.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION.

Carolina Fruit & Truckers Journal Has Strong Editorial on Meeting Here.

The Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal of May 10th, has the following:

Wilmington, N. C., and New Hanover county will entertain in royal style the North Carolina Good Roads Association in this city and at Wrightsville Beach, June 21st, 22nd and 23rd. Thousands of visitors are expected to attend this great meeting of live wires and captains of industry. Every man present will have a special message and every delegate in attendance will come on a special mission to accomplish a specific purpose, that purpose being to promote and stimulate state highways from Wilmington to Fayetteville; from Wilmington to Charlotte; from Wilmington to Goldsboro, Raleigh, Greensboro and Asheville, as well as Wilmington to Norfolk, New Bern and Washington N. C. Wilmington will open wide her doors to this aggregation of militant citizens of the Old North State and bid them welcome and God-speed in the good work they are attempting and in a manner befitting the great seaport city of the Old North State.

It goes without the saying that good roads and public highways, state and national, are today agitating the minds of the people as never before in the history of the world. Experience has demonstrated that public highways are doing more for unbuilding our rural districts directly and indirectly than any other factor or instrumentality, save that of steam railroads. Every mile of public highway counts much in the development of each and every rural district, and the development of each and every rural district counts for the prosperity and progress of the cities and towns and the knitting of the two closer together socially, commercially and otherwise. If anything could be more important to both city and country than good roads, then, than the public highways, we know not what it is.

Hence Wilmington and New Hanover are preparing to give the visiting delegates a welcome that will quickly establish our appreciation for the great and vital idea now being brought to the front as well as in various and sundry ways stimulate state-wide activities in this great work.

Wilmington is North Carolina's great seaport city and it is eminently right and proper that as all roads lead to Rome in the early ages, in our present day of progress and civilization, all roads should lead to Wilmington. A most cordial invitation is therefore extended all who are interested in public highways and good roads to visit this city and Wrightsville Beach on the occasion of the North Carolina Good Roads Association convention, June 21st, 22nd and 23rd. On this occasion new ideas will be advanced, and the work of the past reviewed in general and brought up to date; additional plans for an expanded campaign will be brought out, elaborated on and made plain. Every section, therefore, that is interested in good roads and public highways should have representation at this convention.

Committees have been appointed to work out each and every detail of the convention as follows: Executive committee, committee on entertainment, publicity, finance, automobiles, Wilmington-Charlotte-Asheville Highway; Wilmington-Goldsboro Highway, roads and streets, traffic, etc. Wrightsville Beach will be in gay attire and the Lumina pavilion will have on its best "bib and tucker" and supplied with music, motion pictures, and other means of entertainment. Surf bathing, canoeing, yachting, boat races, etc., will be at high tide. Sea food will be at its best for the service of the inner man, while good fellowship will characterize the whole proceedings. Eastern North Carolina is the Garden Spot of the World, while North Carolina as a whole is the greatest state in the Union, and we are going to prove it at the convention next month. If you miss it, you'll be sorry.

CURRENT COMMENT

Way up in the western part of the State, a town by the name of Mooresville has hit on a mighty happy, and we dare say, profitable plan that is going to mean much for its future and we refer to the holding of community meetings where citizens come together in general gatherings to discuss what the town needs, an opportunity being given those having opinions on the subject to express them. The interchange of views by people representative of many different vocations and stations in life can hardly fail to prove decidedly helpful. We repeat that the community meeting idea is a good one.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

HEALTH IS WEALTH
by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

Health answers its own ends and has to spare, runs over and inundates the neighborhoods and creeks of other men's necessities.—EMERSON.

Unpreparedness

TWO English maiden ladies in straitened circumstances, and with the noble terror back in their souls of being dependent on anybody or any institution, "reviewed their position." They computed to the minutest detail what their dividends would provide them—so much for rent, so much for food (which they prepared themselves) so much for clothing, for incidentals and so on. Above all things they were determined not to touch their principal. "For, if we grow old and useless, if no one will give us even board and lodging for our services, then indeed we shall be glad that nothing tempted us to intrench upon our capital. It would just keep us from the workshop." Yes, they could, with great care, live on the apportionment of their income they made, live on it somehow. And they were glad—for thus was independence vouchsafed them. "And, oh, what a blessed thing is independence!"

Then they took their supper, each a cup of cocoa and a bisquit; and half an hour later they went to bed. For lamp oil was costly. Next day, after a dinner of mashed potatoes and milk ("The Irish peasantry live almost entirely on that and they are physically a fine race"), the one went for a walk, leaving at home her sister who of late had been, not ill, indeed not, but rather prone to headaches and backaches and other disorders. She who went out designed to walk on her errand some five miles, to save the bus fare. She had not gone very far when her features began to work in the strangest way, as though a difficulty of breathing assailed her; beads of perspiration came on her face, which had turned to a ghastly pallor, and she now succumbed to a dreadful giddiness. When she was revived from her faint a profound despair came upon her. In short and in simple truth these two superb gentlewomen had made no calculation for the possibility of illness.

Here is a tragic situation far from unique in civilization. Who among us has not made, is not constantly making, miscalculations regarding life and its outcomes. And certainly the commonest of all miscalculations is that no allowance is made for disease and for disability. The least consideration is given to the exigency of health breaking down, one becoming thus a liability instead of an asset to one's friends and one's kin. All physicians will certainly find their experience to agree with that of Dr. Norman Bridge, of Los Angeles, who in an actual practice of several decades, and with more or less intimate knowledge of the life of several hundreds of families, "can hardly recall an instance among the laity in which caution for health's sake was frankly urged on economic grounds; and when it was spoken of in this connection it was usually under one's breath, as if it were a shame to put life and health on so sordid a basis."

BIRTH MARKS.

G. K. writes: I am a girl 23 years old, and have a sort of growth in my skin, half-moon shaped; it is black and consists of little projections. It is absolutely painless and as a child I used to take it as a matter of fact. However, since growing older, I have often wondered what it really was.

Answer: A birth mark. Let it alone unless it becomes irritated and inflamed; then see a doctor. Watch this column for an article on Birth Marks and the Beauty Doctor.

CALORIES.

T. R. C. writes: What is meant by the fuel value of food?

Answer: The number of calories that the foods will furnish when consumed in the body. The calorie is the heat unit of foods. It is expressed in physical science by the amount of heat necessary to raise the tamperature of one kilogram of water one degree Centigrade; it is equivalent to the force required to lift one ton a distance of 1.54 feet against the force of gravity.

WALKING AND NERVES.

F. H. R. writes: Is walking good for nervous people?

Answer: Generally excellent. Gives them change of scene, gets them interested in the life around them, discourages introspection, makes them realize how much worse most other people are than they, works off the tantrums, and gives them drugless sleep.

MELVIN HORNE IS AGAIN CONVICTED OF MURDER

Jury Returned A Verdict Last Evening for First Degree

Condemned Man Declares That He Wants to Die—Officers Had to Subdue Him by Main Strength to Carry Him to Jail.

"I don't want any motion, I don't want any appeal, I want to die," declared Melvin Horne, convicted for the second time by a Superior Court jury of murder in the first degree for the killing of Mr. D. L. T. Capps, when the verdict was returned last evening at 6:45 o'clock, after the jury had spent six hours in deliberating as to their decision. Horne's attorneys were just on the point of making a formal motion for notice of appeal when their client rose to his feet and interrupted with the remark that he wanted to die.

Judge W. P. Stacy directed that the prisoner be taken to the county jail and Deputy Sheriff E. C. Reynolds and County Officer H. Mack Godwin started to take him out. Horne, always a strong man, showed that his confinement in jail had not weakened him materially when he thrust the two officers from him, throwing Officer Godwin against the railing that surrounds the court bar with one hand and pushing Officer Reynolds away with the other. He grabbed a chair but before he could use it, he was thrown to the floor and the officers picked him up bodily and carried him to the jail. It required six men to carry him, these being Deputy Sheriffs Reynolds, Keen and Kelly, Officer Godwin, Policeman Jordan and Lewis and Constable Davis. As he was being carried out Horne continued to assert that he had no friends and that the people wanted him to die and that he himself wanted to die.

The effect of the second verdict upon Horne was quite different from that of the first time when he walked out calmly with the officers and with a smile greeted his acquaintances.

The entire morning in Superior Court yesterday was taken up with the arguments of counsel and the charge of Judge Stacy, the case going to the jury at 2 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the jury came into the court room following the convening of court to hear a motion to set aside the verdict in the Merrick case and asked for additional instructions as to insanity, which was set up by Horne's attorneys as a defense.

At 6:45 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Keen, who was in charge of the jury, announced that they had reached a verdict and court was again convened. Foreman Roger Moore returned the verdict and then each member of the jury was polled and each one repeated the word "guilty." The jury that sat in the case was composed of Messrs. L. N. Rouse, H. L. Bell, L. Baggett, Archibald McRae, G. B. Applewhite, Jake Butler, B. A. Manney, S. A. Miller, J. S. Funchess, Roger Moore, L. G. Bass and J. W. Sebrell.

Following the taking of the verdict last evening, Judge Stacy ordered that a recess be taken until this morning at 9:30 o'clock at which time it is expected that Horne will be sentenced for the second time to death in the electric chair. His conviction makes the third for the present term of court for a capital offense. This probably establishes a precedent in New Hanover county.

Cyrus D. Hogue and Kenneth Burgwin, Esqs., conducted Horne's defense in an able manner. They relied solely on the defense that their client is suffering with paranoia, a form of insanity, to acquit him and introduced much evidence to substantiate their contention. For the State Solicitor Homer Lyon was assisted by County Solicitor George Peschau and L. Clayton Grant, Esq. They conducted a strenuous prosecution and put on many witnesses whose testimony tended to show that Horne was a sane man. Judge Stacy in his charge went fully into every detail of the case and gave the jury thorough definitions of the different degrees of murders and pointed out very clearly what the law terms insanity, this being the question of whether or not a man knows the difference between right and wrong.

William J. Bellamy and Burke H. Bridgers, Esqs., in making a motion yesterday afternoon to have the verdict set aside in the case of Tom Merrick, colored, convicted of the murder for the second time of Mr. Leon B. Hudson, based it on the grounds that Richard Phelps, a young boy, had committed perjury in that he testified at the second trial that their client had "broke" the gun, with which he killed Mr. Hudson, took a shell out of his pocket and put it into the weapon. They maintained that the boy did not say the first time he testified that Merrick had taken a shell out of his pocket but merely that he had either closed or cocked the gun.

From the evidence in the first trial, as transcribed by the court stenographer, it appeared that the boy had "illustrated" his testimony. Maj. W. N. Harriss, Clerk of the Superior Court, Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly and County Officer H. Mack Godwin, were placed on the stand yesterday and swore that one of the white boys—they were not certain that it was Phelps—had said on the stand the first time that Merrick had taken a shell out of his pocket, put it in the gun and then shot Hudson. Following this testimony Judge Stacy found as a fact that Phelps had not committee perjury and denied the motion of Merrick's attorneys to have the verdict set aside.

Merrick's attorneys asked for 70 days in which to prepare their formal appeal and the State will have 30 days. This will not bring the case before the Supreme Court before next fall.

Did Not Give Morphine.

The Star regrets having inadvertently stated in its news columns yesterday that Dr. N. A. Culbreth testified in the Horne case that he gave the defendant morphine. Dr. Culbreth made no such statement but did say that he administered chloroform in order to extract a tooth and that the fact that it required about three times as much as for most men indicated that Horne was abnormal, possibly from having taken morphine.

COMMITTEE PLANS TO TEAR DOWN TABERNACLE

Unless Sufficient Money to Pay Deficiency is Secured.

Statement by Rev. Dr. John M. Wells on Behalf of Executive Committee for Revival Campaign to People of City.

Unless the people of Wilmington can at once provide the necessary funds to repay those who underwrote the expenses of the Chapman-Alexander revival campaign, the Tabernacle will be torn down in order to secure from the salvage the amount needed, according to a statement made last night by Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, chairman of the executive committee for the meetings.

At the beginning of the revival campaign it was announced by Dr. Chapman that from the collections "we can probably meet these local expenses in the first ten days of the meetings. This building is to stand and that is a fine thing. Ordinarily we would have about $1,000 to $1,200 salvage after the meetings are over through the sale of the lumber in the building."

However, the collections did not come up to expectations and the executive committee points out that whereas the expenses were estimated at $5,400, even with the most careful economy the actual cost was about $6,000.

The statement of the executive committee reads as follows:

"As chairman of the executive committee of the Chapman-Alexander Campaign, I have been requested by that committee to give the following statement to the people of Wilmington:

"The committee representing the churches estimated the cost of the campaign to be $5,400.

"This included the cost of the Tabernacle, which we hoped to preserve to supply a long-felt want. In spite of the most careful economy, the actual cost of the campaign was about $6,000.

"Much to the disappointment of the committee, the collections in the Tabernacle during the first two weeks of the campaign were far below our expectations. And even after many generous gifts outside the Tabernacle, including a very generous response from the gentlemen who underwrote the expenses of the campaign, there was still a considerable difference between the cost of the campaign and the contributions. To meet this, however much we may desire to preserve the Tabernacle, the committee has no alternative save to have the building torn down and to secure from the salvage the amount needed for the repayment of those who have so generously advanced the money.

"The committee keenly realizing how much Wilmington needs such a building for conventions, corn shows, and other purposes, desires before the dismantlig of the building to let our citizens know the exact situation.

"We desire in this manner to call the attention of City Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and other organizations and all public-spirited citizens to the opportunity of securing for our city for the mere cost of the building material, a building pronounced by Dr. Chapman to be the best he has spoken in during all the years of his work.

"Those desiring further information can secure same from Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the finance committee."

"Very truly,
"JOHN M. WELLS,
"Chairman Executive Committee."

WORKING FOR CONVENTION

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt Sends Out Letters to All Members State Good Roads Association.

There is no more enthusiastic booster for the annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association than Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, the secretary of the association, who is working early and late to secure a large attendance at the meeting to be held at Wrightsville Beach, June 21st to 23rd, inclusive. Mr. W. A. McGirt, chairman of the local executive committee for the convention, is very much pleased with the generous co-operation of the business men and other citizens in helping in completing the arrangements for this occasion which promises to be one of the most important of the year.

Dr. Pratt has sent out the following letter to every member of the Good Roads Association in the State:

"My Dear Sir:—As you probably know, the annual convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association will be held at Wrightsville Beach, Wilmington, June 21st to 23rd, inclusive. We are working to make this the biggest road convention ever held in the State, and it will be if we have the energetic and enthusiastic backing of our membership. The Wilmington people are doing all that they can to insure a splendid attendance and are working for an attendance of 5,000 people.

"I sincerely hope that you, as a member of the Association will make all arrangements to attend, and if you know of parties in your section who would like to attend as delegates, I will ask you to send me their names and addresses. We want to get just as many people as possible so as to make it a great educational awakening for better methods of road construction and maintenance. In fact, we are going to make road maintenance a special feature. The railroads will give a special rate of three cents for the round trip, plus 25 cents.

"I sincerely hope that nothing will interfere with your being with us at this time.

"With best wishes,
"Yours sincerely,
"JOSEPH HYDE PRATT,
"Secretary."

FIRST HEAVY RAIN OF MONTHS WAS GENERAL

All Over Cotton Belt States to Delight of Farmers

Nearly One Inch Fell in Hour's Time in Wilmington, but Rained Twice as Hard at Goldsboro—Caused Washout Near Fayetteville.

"The rains descended and the floods came." That's what the farmers have been praying for and that's what they got yesterday. Well, the city dwellers got it, too, and in excess quantities. They would have been satisfied with the windows of the heavens had not been opened quite so wide by Jupiter Pluvius, but that mighty one having first hand information as to the needs of the truckers and farmers, turned loose the elements until practically every one was driven from the streets of the city. Such as did venture forth returned from their forays to shelter looking like so many half-drowned rats. It was the first heavy rain for many months in this section of the State.

The whole face of the earth was covered, while the waters in the runways beside the broad streets ran many cubits deep following a tropical downpour which began shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and lasted nearly an hour. According to the measuring instruments of the local office of the United States Weather Bureau nearly one inch of rain fell up to 8 o'clock last night, and most of it came down within the short space of one hour in the afternoon. The exact figures for the precipitation was .97 of an inch.

Although Wilmingtonians probably think they got rain a-plenty, they were treated very mildly as compared with other sections of Eastern Carolina. For heaviness of rainfall, Goldsboro leads the list, it rained about two and one-half times as hard there, for the records of the Weather Bureau show that the precipitation up to 8 o'clock yesterday was 2.60 inches. Lumberton and vicinity with 2.44 inches is a close competitor in this respect.

Heavy rains appear to have visited practically all sections of the cotton belt, and in some cases, especially in the southeastern states was accompanied by hail which did considerable damage. In the district lying between Fayetteville and Sanford, traffic on the railroad was somewhat delayed by washouts.

Between Fayetteville and Sanford yesterday the rain is reported to have been unusually heavy, the train on the A. & Y. railroad between this city and Sanford, having had to transfer at Spout Springs, between Fayetteville and Sanford, on account of a wash-out of the track there.

The rains appear to have been quite general all over the cotton belt with the exception of the Augusta, Ga., district, which doubtless benefited by the continued rains yesterday. The Cotton Region Bulletin, issued yesterday morning for the 24 hours ended at 8 A. M., showed very heavy rainfalls in this section as follows: Goldsboro 2.60 inches; Lumberton, 2.44 inches; Newbern 1.34 inches; Raleigh, 1.80 inches; Weldon, 2.00 inches; Florence, S. C., 1.20 inches; Conway, S. C., 2.70 inches; Wilmington .97 inch. There were heavy rains also in Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee with hail which did considerable damage at Hernando, Miss.

TO SPEAK ON ADVERTISING

Mr. C. E. LaVinge, of New York, Will Make Address in Wilmington at Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has secured Mr. C. E. LaVinge, of New York, a representative of the American Fair Trade League, to address the organization on "Honest Advertising and Price Maintenance," on Friday evening, June 2nd.

Mr. Lavinge will speak in the interest of the bill introduced by Representative Stephens, of Nebraska, to protect the public against dishonest advertising and false pretences in merchandising. This bill has been endorsed by a number of the leading commercial orgaizations in the country, as well as many hundreds of merchants and manufacturers. It is generally spoken of as the "Stephens Standard Price Bill" and it is believed by the organizations that have endorsed the measure that its enactment into a law will improve merchandising conditions to the benefit of the public. The Chamber of Commerce here is especially interested in protecting its members against worthless advertising, and also in advertising methods generally, which will be a feature of Mr. Lavinge's address.

It is believed that his address will be of more than ordinary interest to the Wilmington public and that the meeting arranged under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce will attract a large attendance. The chief objects of the American Fair Trade League is to aid in the re-establishment and continuance of fair competitive commercial conditions; promote honesty in manufacturing, in advertising and in merchandising, for the mutual interest of the consumer and of the middle man and the manufacturer, and to secure to the public the benefits and protection of stable, uniform retail prices upon all trade marks and branded goods.

BUTLER STILL SINGING.

Popular Gospel Singer of Hymns Here Eight Years Ago at New Castle, Ky.

It will be of interest to his many friends in Wilmington to learn that Mr. Charles Butler, who was with Dr. R. A. Torrey when the big union revival meetings were held in Wilmington eight years ago, is still able to continue his work as a singer of Gospel hymns. It was reported recently that he was seriously ill at his home in Springfield, Ill., but according to a news item received here he will lead the singing for a revival meeting which Evangelist J. B. Leavell, of Oxford, Miss., will begin at New Castle, Ky., next Sunday.

Evangelist Leavell is known as the "Banker Evangelist" because he gave up a bank position paying several thousand dollars a year to become pastor of a church that paid $900 a year.

JAMES LUNSFORD KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Terrible Double Tragedy Occurs in Duplin County Home.

Relatives in Wilmington Received Shocking News Yesterday and Left for Kenansville—No Cause Known for Deed.

Evidently suffering temporary mental derangement, Mr. James Lunsford, aged 35, a well known farmer of Duplin county, shot and instantly killed his wife and then placed the shotgun on the floor and, pulling the trigger with his toe, fired a load of shot through his breast that ended his life almost immediately, according to telephone messages received in the city yesterday by relatives of the family and dispatches received by The Star last night. The double tragedy occurred at the Lunsford home near Kenansville late Monday night.

Mrs. Lunsford was a sister-in-law of Mrs. I. W. Cooper, Mrs. J. J. Kelly and Mr. Chas. S. Southerland, of Wilmington. Upon receipt of the news of the tragedy yesterday they, with Mr. I. W. Cooper, in the latter's automobile, left about noon for Kenansville. Mrs. Lunsford, before her marriage to Mr. Lunsford about six months ago, was the widow of the late Mr. Edward Southerland, who died in Wilmington some years ago.

No reason has been assigned for Mr. Lunsford's terrible deeds. The presumption is that he must have been temporarily insane. According to all reports, he and his wife had lived happily since their marriage six months ago. At the time of the tragedy, which was about 9 or 10 o'clock Monday night, all other members of the household, which included Mrs. Lunsford's two young sons by her former husband, one seven or eight years old and the other ten or eleven, and her mother, Mrs. Bostic, had retired for the night. There seems to have been no eye witness to the killing of Mrs. Lunsford, but Mrs. Bostic, awakened by the first shot, arrived on the scene just in time to see Mr. Lunsford kill himself, but not in time to prevent the deed.

One report says Mrs. Lunsford was shot while she sat reading a newspaper; that Mr. Lunsford had retired, but arose and shot his wife without warning. Another is to the effect that Mr. Lunsford, undressed and ready to retire, stepped out on a porch, called to his wife as she stood beside a dresser inside the room, with the open door between them, and when she turned facing him in response to his call, he fired the first fatal shot, the load taking effect in her breast, causing instant death. He then placed the gun on the floor, the muzzle against his chest, and with his toe pulled the trigger, wounding himself so that he died within a very short while.

Mr. Lunsford, as well as his wife, had been married twice, his former wife having died some years ago. He was considered an excellent farmer and was reputed to be an excellent citizen, big hearted and industrious. He was prominently connected in Durham and Person counties, it is said. Relatives in that section were advised yesterday of the tragedy, and are expected to arrive in time for the double funeral, which will be held this morning.

Mrs. Lunsford had lived in Duplin county for some years and was highly esteemed in her neighborhood, having made many friends during her residence there.

Friends of the relatives and family connections of the ill-fated family tenderly sympathize with them in the sudden sorrow which the dark tragedy has brought to them.

ARREST NEGRO FOR BREAKING INTO AND ROBBING SHANTY.

"Sinky Joe" is Captured After Chase by Police and Locked Up.

Following a report made to him while on duty at Eighth and Nixon streets shortly before noon yesterday that some one was breaking into the shanty car at the coal shute of the Seaboard Air Line, Officer B. W. Jacobs telephoned the police station for the bloodhounds. About ten minutes later Officer W. H. Kermon arrived with one of the dogs, but its services were not required as when the officers reached the scene they saw Joe Smith, colored, alias "Sinky Joe" running away. He was captured and placed under arrest on the charge of breaking into the shanty.

In this connection three charges of larceny were entered against him, it being alleged that he stole from the shanty two pairs of shoes, the property of Ellis Baker and Sam Bowden, both colored, and one pair of trousers, two sheets and a razor, the property of Charlie Holliday, colored. In addition the police have an old warrant charging larceny against him.

Resinol Soap

a friend to tender skins

Many ill-made toilet soaps contain free alkali, a harsh chemical which tends to dry and injure the skin or hair. Resinol Soap contains absolutely no free alkali, and to it is added the soothing, healing Resinol medication, which doctors have used for over 20 years in treating skin troubles. Thus it comforts tender skins, and helps nature clear the complexion and keep the hair rich, lustrous and free from dandruff. Sold at all druggists' and toilet counters.

WILMINGTONIAN MAKES FAST TIME ON MOTORCYCLE RUN

Mr. H. C. Rorison Breaks Record Between Atlanta and Asheville.

Sunday's Asheville Citizen says:

"What was stated to be a record-breaking trip was made yesterday by H. C. Rorison, of Wilmington, who rode from Atlanta to Asheville on a motorcycle yesterday in nine hours and nineteen minutes. Mr. Rorison rode three speed, seven horse-power Indian machine and stated last night that he left Atlanta yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock. He arrived in Asheville at 2:49 p. m. Seven hours and twenty-six minutes was the actual running time consumed, as the rider ran into a wagon on the way and was forced to change the fork of the machine.

"The run from Greenville to Asheville was made in two hours and ten minutes. The distance is approximately 270 miles. Mr. Rorison said that the trip was rather unpleasant owing to the dusty condition of the roads, which made the journey almost unbearable.

"Frank A. Mears in a 1913 model six-cylinder Studebaker car, made the trip some time ago in nine hours and fifteen minutes, beating the motorcycle time by just four minutes. The time of the trip by train is ten hours and fourteen minutes."

GREENSBORO COLLEGE FOR WOMEN CONCLUDES FINALS

Greensboro, N. C., May 16.—With the annual concert in the college auditorium this evening the commencement exercises of Greensboro College for Women came to a close. The programme consisted of many of the best selections from great composers and a large number of students of the department were on the programme. This afternoon the business meeting of the alumnea association was held, and many former students were here for this meeting and the other commencement exercises.

The graduating exercises took place this morning, and were largely attended. After the invocation an instrumental trio was rendered by Messrs. Roy, Browning and Lahser, of the music faculty, this being the Hungarian dance in D. major (No. 6) from Bach. This was followed by the conferring of degrees, presentation of certificates and the presentation of Bibles. The same trio then rendered Izzicato Cavotte.

The literary address was by Dr. Henry N. Snyder, of Spartanburg, S. C., president of Wofford College, and was a literary gem. He was given closest attention by the student body and visitors, as he discussed the progress of recent years in education of women. Following this address portraits of two former presidents were presented to the college by the alumnae. These were those of Dr. B. F. Dixon, who was State auditor after he was president of the institution, and Dr. Charles Force Deems, who was presidet prior to Dr. Dixon's administration.

MR. C. A. FLEMING TO WED MISS BRYAN OF HARNETT

Buie's Creek, N. C., May 16.—One of the prettiest social events of the season, and one of interest to the many friends of the young lady throughout the State, was an announcement party given by Prof. and Mrs. B. P. Marshbanks at their attractive home, Thursday evening, May 9th. The guests were graciously received on the porch by Mrs. Marshbanks where improvised seats were arranged for the occasion. Mr. Marshbanks immediately started the merry-making by distributing "missing link" quotations to be supplied by appropriate words. Following this, they were ushered into the library, where a musical contest of the most unique form was engaged in, followed by delightful refreshments served in two courses. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, crimson clover predominating, banked in every conceivable place, giving an air of beauty to the home. The hostess appeared with an armful of clover, inviting all the girls to the lighted lawn, while she stood on the steps and told in her charming manner the sweet myth of the clover, telling them this was the "real clover" of the beautiful romance, and held in the depths of its heart a secret soon to be revealed. Holding aloft the bouquet she told the group of lovely girls to "look out", the clover was coming, the one who caught and found the secret would be happy and successful in her leap year wooing. Miss Janet Gilmer being favored by cupid, caught the clover, drawing a card held by cupid, she read these words:

"Bryan-Fleming, June the 8th."

Miss Bryan gracefully accepted and responded to the many kind wishes and congratulations of her friends. She is one of Harnett county's most popular young ladies and has a host of friends all over the State. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bryan, one of the most prominent families here.

Mr. C. A. Fleming is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fleming, of Hassell, N. C. He is now a successful druggist of Wilmington, N. C.

Elks Leave for Convention.

Messrs. E. C. Cohen, J. E. Porter and J. T. Newman, Sr., delegates from the Asheville lodge of Elks, have left for Washington, N. C., where they will attend the State convention of the order, which today began a three-day session at that place. It is expected that a very large delegation of local Elks will attend the National convention of the order which will be held in Baltimore July 10 to 15.

THE CHAUTAUQUA WILL OPEN HERE TOMORROW

Afternoon Programme Marks the Opening of Week's Attractions.

The Killarney Girls, Who Are Right From Cork, Will Present First Number on Big Programme. Ticket Sale On.

It's a long way to Tipperary, but when the Killarney girls step upon the platform at the Tabernacle tomorrow afternoon upon the opening of the Chautauqua week to present their highly entertaining and dashing programme in song and story, the audience will be carried back to Cork and Donegal in an easy and delightful way. Lake Killarney wil then likely seem a bit more real, the turf fields of peasantry, the river Shannon and Killaloe will have a new interest for Wilmingtonians.

Hearing the Killarney Girls is said to be like taking a trip through Ireland. There are six of them and they will present a programme of songs, especially arranged for the company. Every member of the company is a charming young woman and a splendid singer.

William Rainey Bennett, who has a reputation as a great speaker and entertainer, will be the big attraction tomorrow night. He will deliver his oration, "The Man Who Can." Before Bryan, the "Peerless orator," lost his hair, it is stated that Bennett was often mistaken for him. Mr. Bennett's forceful manner of speaking has caused him to be compared to Billy Sunday. His lecture carries a message to help young people to find themselves. He emphasizes the need of imagination.

He offers as a suggestion the statement that no being is safe unless he goes into the secret of his own soul. He indicates the lack of ethical sentiment in business and so many of the affairs of life and declares that it is only by the introduction of this ethical element that conditions will improve. Earnestness and sincerity is said to run through his lecture from beginning to end. There is enough comedy woven in his lecture to make it an enjoyable one.

A carload of equipment for the Chautauqua arrived from Charlotte yesterday at noon and most of it was transported to the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon. The crew for getting things in shape came along with the equipment.

General Secretary Huntington, of the Y. M. C. A., announces that the sale of tickets has been quite large but that there are still a large number who subscribed for tickets last year, who have not made their purchases. He states that unless they are bought by tomorrow at noon they cannot be had for $2.50 but that the price at that time will be advanced to $3. It is announced that this will be enforced strictly this year and that the safe rule for saving money is to buy tickets today. While it is preferable that tickets be bought at the Y. M. C. A., for the convenience of the public tickets have been left at the following drug stores, where they may be purchased: Green's, Sasser's, Mission Pharmacy, Woodall and Sheppard, Bunting's and Southside.

One of several memorials in Christ church in Newbern, dedicated Sunday morning by Bishop Thos. C. Darst, was a handsome altar, given by Mr. M. S. Willard, of Wilmington, as a memorial to his wife. Mr. Willard attended the service which was very impressive, several other memorials having been dedicated at the same time. Mrs. Willard was a devoted member of the Episcopal church.

Following the sermon and memorial services a class of six was confirmed. This was the bishop's first visit to that city since his recent marriage and he was given a most cordial welcome.

WIVES AND MOTHERS

Have you ever stopped to realize how much the health of your family depends upon you? For instance, diet is a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again when any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that our local druggist, Robert R. Bellamy, has a non-secret constitutional remedy known as Vinol which he guarantees for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it.

AWARDED $5,000 DAMAGES

Federal Court Jury Brings in Verdict For That Amount in Case of P. B. Riley Against Lumber Company

The jury in the United States District Court to whom the case of P. B. Riley against the Waccamaw Lumber Company was submitted late yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $5,000. In this case action was brought by the plaintiff, a timber estimator, for $15,000 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been received while in the employ of the company. When court convened yesterday morning, Judge H. G. Connor, who is presiding at the present term, disposed of the motion for non-suit made by the defendant's counsel by announcing that he would let the case go to the jury.

It is understood that when court convenes this morning counsel for the defendant will make the motion that the verdict be set aside; and if this is denied will move for a new trial; in case both motions are overruled, notice of appeal to the United States Court of Appeals at Richmond will be given.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Connor stated that the defense set up by the defendant that the plaintiff at the time of the accident was working as a volunteer in that his duties as a timber cruiser and estimator did not include the unloading of cross-ties within their scope, was a perfectly proper and legal defense, if technical.

The court reviewed the testimony of the plaintiff as to his employment, and stated that it was contended in the complaint that the plaintiff, who received a salary of $2,500 as a timber estimator, had sustained a painful injury seriously interfered with his work being crushed under the wheel of the defendant's engine, and that such injury seriously interfered with his work as an estimator, which required a great deal of walking.

In reading extracts from the plaintiff's testimony the court pointed out that Mr. Riley had testified that he had been employed by Mr. James Reedy, the superintendent, and that the latter had ordered him to get on the dinky log train's tender just prior to the accident. As to the injury the testimony of witnesses showed that at the time it was received, Supt. Reedy and Mr. Riley, were on one side of the tender assisting in unloading the ties from the tender by shoving them towards the other side, where they were received by the engineer and fireman. In order to do this more advantageously Mr Riley placed his foot on the rail behind one of the engine's wheels, when suddenly without warning the engine moved backwards, crushing it. It was admitted by the defense that the leaking of the engine's throttle caused the train to move at that time.

The court charged the jury that an employer was required by law to furnish an employe with a reasonably safe place to work and reasonably safe tools where they were performing acts within the scope of their duties, but the question of whether the plaintiff, when he began to throw off the cross-ties was acting within the scope of his duties as a timber cruiser, was one of fact and therefore for the jury to decide after hearing all the evidence.

Owing to the fact that one of the jurors, Mr. J. D. Edwards, became ill during the trial, a jury of eleven men instead of the usual twelve, decided the case. This was agreed to by the attorneys on both sides.

The plaintiff was represented by Frank Spruill, Esq., of Rocky Mount; and the firm of Rountree, Davis & Carr, of this city; while Robert Ruark, Esq. appeared for the defendant company.

NEGRO HID UNDER HOUSE

But Dog's Barking Gave Alarm That Led to Capture.

Thinking that something was wrong because of the continued barking of his dog about 10 o'clock last night, Mr. E. C. Hopkins, of No. 410 Smith street finally came to the conclusion that there was some one under his house, he crawled underneath the building and finally came on Clarence Conley, colored, 18 years old, whom he found close to the base of the chimney. With the assistance of Mr. C. W. Burnett, he effected a capture and later turned the prisoner over to Officer Leon George, who escorted him to the police station where a charge of trespassing was placed against the negro.

A little later in the evening Officer W. H. Kermon arrested George McKnight, colored, 19 years old, who is believed to have been implicated with "Sinky" Joe Smith in the robbery of a Seaboard shanty car at the coal shute shortly before noon yesterday. He is charged with the larceny of two pairs of shoes and two pairs of trousers from the shanty car.

MAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

As Result of Raid Made by Deputy Collector J. R. Kennedy and Others on Still Near Dunn.

Deputy Collector J. R. Kennedy, of this city, returned on the late train last night from Dunn, N. C., where during the past few days he has been in the operations in that section against illicit distilling, culminating Sunday night in the accidental killing of John Denning, in a raid on a still which he, H. M. Lucas and George Williams are said to have been operating.

Denning's death, despite the fact that he is said to have been resisting arrest, was accidental, the wound having been inflicted when Deputy Marshal George F. Moore stumbled and fell and his pistol was accidentally discharged. The still was located on Black river, two miles north of Dunn, and when the officers closed in on the place, Williams jumped behind a large tree, where a gun was standing, causing the officers to believe that he was going to shoot. Denning is said to have advanced towards Moore, drawing a pistol from his hip pocket. At this juncture, Moore is said to have stumbled and fell, his pistol discharging accidentally and the ball piercing Denning through the left breast and killing him instantly. Lucas, who had run upon the approach of the officers, was captured by one of the posse. Williams and Lucas were taken to Benson, N. C., where they were given preliminary trial and bound over to Federal court at Raleigh. An inquest will be held today to investigate fully the killing of Denning.

Highly Important That Every Voter Attend to Important Duty This Week—Only Three Days.

If you haven't registered, better do so today. Saturday is the last day and it is likely that there will be many who will delay until the last—and then forget it. It is an important duty this year for City Council has ordered an election on certain contemplated improvements and they are questions in which every Wilmington voter is interested. A new registration was ordered and names not on the books, won't count on June 3rd.

The registration for the special city election will be by the same registrars and at the same places as for the primary election to be held June 3rd. While a new registration is not necessary for the primary, if a voter was registered properly for the last election and has not since moved, in some cases names may have gotten left off in transcribing the lists. It will be an easy matter while registering for the city election for a voter to see if he is properly registered for the primary.

Following is a list of the polling places and the registrars appointed:

TO MANAGE BEACH COTTAGE

Business Women Enjoy Delightful Social Given at Y. W. C. A. Last Evening—Officers Elected.

Nearly 300 business women of Wilmington met at the Young Women's Christian Association last evening at the social which was given in honor of this new organization formed as a result of the Chapman-Alexander meetings. Following the supper which was served on the lawn, Miss Troutt, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., suggested that possibly the Business Women would like to take charge of the management of Cooleemee cottage at Wrightsville Beach and operate it with the management of the Y. W. C. A. acting in an advisory capacity.

The suggestion by Miss Troutt met with enthusiastic endorsement of those present and steps will immediately be taken to enroll new members for the organization and to encourage interest in the summer home at the beach. The same cottage which was used last year with such great success has again been secured. Everything has been placed in readiness for the opening of the season on June 1st.

Officers were elected by the new organization as follows: President, Miss Davie Duffy; vice president, Miss Mary Worth; secretary, Miss Emma Belle LeGwin; treasurer, Miss Louise Sholar. Miss Roberts was appointed chairman of the committee on by-laws and constitution. The meeting last night was not a regular one for the organization, this being scheduled for Thursday night, May 25th.

Following the business meeting held after the supper which was served by the members of the physical, social and recreation committees of the Y. W. C. A., those present had the pleasure of witnessing the splendid gymnastic demonstration by the members of the gymnasium classes which was first given on Saturday evening and everyone was delighted with this feature. During the intermission the Choral Club sang two enjoyable selections.

Coast Guard Wants Men.

Yesterday's Baltimore Sun says: "An echo of preparedness has struck the Coast Guard service and a circular sent out by Captain Gamble, of the cutter Apache, on the Baltimore station, invites men to join the service. The Apache will leave Baltimore this week on a cruise to Cambridge, Crisfield, Tangier, Oxford and other places along the bay to enable men to enlist in the Coast Guard without the inconvenience of coming to this city to take the physical examination. A surgeon of the Public Health Service will be assigned to the Apache for the trip."

The Factory Behind the Food

More than forty different kinds of corn flakes were prepared experimentally before New Post Toasties were finally developed to perfertion. As a distinguishing feature, note the tiny bubbles on each flake—raised by the quick, intense heat of a new patented process of manufacture.

New Post Toasties are the first corn flakes with a self-developed flavour—the full, true flavour of choice white Indian Corn—unlike common "corn flakes" that depend largely on cream and sugar for their palatability.

Try a handful dry—this simple test will demonstrate the delicious new flavour. But the flakes are usually served with cream or rich milk.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" or crumble in the package, and they "stand up" when cream or milk is added. They're untouched by human hands and put up in moisture-proof packages to preserve their oven freshness until served.

THEATRICAL

Victor Moore, who recently created such a sensation in the production of "Chimmie Fadden Out West," will be seen at the Royal today in support of Anita King, "The Paramount Girl," in the Lasky photoplay, "The Race," a thrilling drama founded on Miss King's recent trans-continental motor trip, which she made absolutely alone from Los Angeles to New York City.

Last summer Miss King, an enthusiastic motorist, secured permission from Lasky to make the trip unattended. On September first she left the exposition grounds at 'Frisco carrying messages to Mayor Mitchell, of New York. It took her forty-nine days to make the journey—twenty nine of which it rained continually and she had to battle through mud a greater part of the way. While crossing Nevada she lost her way. Her car became imbedded in the mire and she broke her shovel. She was without food and to increase her terror she was attacked by a wolf, which she killed. Her entire trip was filled with thrilling incidents, many of which have been incorporated in the photoplay.

The production was made under the direction of George H. Melford, and is said to be one of the most unusual as well as artistic pictures that Lasky ever produced. The supporting cast includes Horace B. Carpenter, William Dale and Jane Wolf.

Good Programme at the Bijou.

"Why Did Mrs. Kentworth Lie?" That is the big question. Her husband was shot by a burglar. Her gems were missing. She was found standing over the wounded man with a revolver in her hand. She wouldn't admit the shooting, but she was evidently shielding the burglar. The house was full of detectives. Who was the guilty man? Though you are told early in the picture you can't get the reason why Mrs. Kentworth lied till the big climax comes, which will surprise and delight everyone who sees it. She was the young wife of an elderly millionaire.

"Why Mrs. Kentworth Lied" is the title and it's in three reels of the most thrilling photoplay mystery you have ever seen. And the best part about it is that it stars handsome Matt Moore, with beautiful Jane Gail, the young Universal beauty whom, if rumor has it right, Matt is soon to wed. It's on today's bill at the Bijou and should be seen by every patron of the show.

Pretty Betty Compson and Eddie Lyons star in a great Nestor scream "The Newlyweds' Mixup," with a scream in every flash.

Big Show Today at Grand.

"Her Husband's Honor"—indeed a striking title for a photoplay— and when we tell you that it is the title of a great two-reel Kalem thriller, full of heart-interest and thrills, and that it stars Elsie McLeod, Henry Pemberton and other members of the Kalem company of stars, and that it is a tale of the unsuspected romance which lurks in the life of a custom inspector, which is brought to light in a thoroughly unique manner, and that the play contains a refreshing amount of new material, an adeptly blended love interest and several of the strongest dramatic moments you ever saw, you will know what to expect in this headliner on today's bill at the Grand theatre.

"The Longer Voyage"—another enticing title that is in front of a really big photoplay. This is an Essanay, a touching human interest story of a wife who gives her life for her husband. It stars beautiful Warda Howard, with Thomas Commerford and Sidney Ainsworth.

And still another big one—a Vitagraph comedy scream, "One Plus One Equals One," starring Bobby Connelly, Mabel Kelly and Arthur Cozine. It's a big show you get for your jitney at the Grand today.

"The Christian" was filmed by the Vitagraph Company of America, in cooperation with the Liebler Company, the owners of the dramatized version of the wonderful play, and, as a stupendous eight-reel spectacle has created new records wherever shown. It will be presented at the Royal Theatre next Saturday.

At the Royal Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the Royal makes its first presentation of the great photoplay productions of Lee Shubert and William A. Brady, as announced in the Saturday Evening Post of two weeks ago, presenting the statuesquely lovely stage sensation, Kitty Gordon, the best gowned woman on the American stage, in the international success, "As In a Looking Glass," marking Miss Gordon's premier as a star of the shadow stage.

"As In a Looking Glass" is one of the most sensationally daring and thrilling dramas of the year. Miss Gordon wore some of the most dazzling and startling gowns that have ever been seen, and this alone makes this lavishly produced feature a sensation. Miss Gordon has outdone for brilliant originality and daring even her most talked about creations, a lavishly ornate and rich gown for every one hundred feet of film. The story deals with a trap set by a scheming and surpassingly lovely society woman for a man, whom, too late, she realizes she loves with a burning passion that halts at nothing. It's presentation at the Royal tomorrow marks a new epoch in the new "open booking" policy at the Royal whereby the entire field of features is scanned, and they are not forced to play any picture which does not come up to the highest standard.

"Graustark" at Grand Tomorrow

"Graustark," the most famous book ever written by George Barr McCutcheon, has won international favor on the legitimate stage. There has been many companies on tour playing this superb and thrilling production, but none that can quite come up to the exquisite and spectacular six-act film version by Essanay, and which was presented at the Royal some months ago to capacity crowds.

Starring in this exquisite masterpiece is Francis X. Bushman, supreme sovereign of the shadow stage, with beautiful Beverly Bayne, one of the most fascinating little ladies in motion pictures. They make of McCutcheon's famous story a living, breathing thing and inject into it the very most superb dramatic talent of which they are both capable, surrounded by a notable cast of co-stars.

In response to repeated requests from many patrons, the Grand Theatre will present this feature tomorrow, and indications point to even larger crowds than those which witnessed it on its initial appearance at the Royal theatre some months ago.

COLUMBUS REPUBLICANS MEET AND "SUGGEST" COUNTY TICKET

Harmony Reigned Supreme, but Butler's Name Stirred No Applause.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., May 16.—Radicals from every nook and corner of Columbus county—the highways and hedges were gleaned—were here yesterday assembled for the purpose of imploring the Republicans of Columbus county to stay far away from the Democratic primary on June 3rd. It was practically the same old crowd that always gathers about this time of year prior to every campaign, some notable faces absent, and a few new ones, so-called inheritants of the faith, were to be seen getting their first insight into a real harmonious Republican convention.

Not a discordant note was sounded yesterday—even Marion Butler's name was mentioned and, while it could be plainly observed that it was a great big thing to swallow, the old-liners bit their teeth and passed on. It was evident that Butler was a sore subject with the leaders and not one bit of applause greeted his name when it was mentioned yesterday by Chairman Irvin B. Tucker.

Porter Hufham, Esq., of Newberlin, was made permanent chairman of the convention and made the "key-note" speech to his party yesterday. Extravagance was his theme and somewhere in some radical paper he had discovered where William Jennings Bryan had failed to persuade the governor of California to veto an alien bill passed by the legislature of that state and he proceeded to whoop 'em up by telling the convention that the Wilson administration didn't have the support of the people. And along such lines the convention proceeded.

I. B. Tucker was "suggested" as a candidate for representative and it is understood that he will file with the county board of erections, as also the following who were "suggested" in the convention yesterday: For sheriff, John Henry Williamson, of Cerro Gordo; for register of deeds, Leslie Pierce, of Hallsboro; for coroner, Dr. L. Baggett, of Tabor; for surveyor, Frank Walker, of Chadbourn; for county commissioners, Byron Wyche, of Hallsboro; F. Marion Stevens, of Boardman, and K. L. Stanley, of Bug Hill.

The township "clubs" caucused after the convention adjourned to name recorders in each of the eight districts in the county and to have the candidates all file before the 20th. R.E.P.

One bottle gave me instant relief. It made me feel like a new man. Your full course of treatments has about cured me. Several of my friends have also been cured."

The Standard Remedy in Countless Homes

Relieves Constipation Easily Without Griping or Discomfort.

MRS. OLIVER YOUNG.

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions that are closely related and the cause of much physical suffering.

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is more or less general and most people suffer at one time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A pleasantly effective remedy, that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous stomach waste and restore regularity, is the compound of simple laxative herbs sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative tonic, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, and has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes for many years.

Mrs. Oliver Young, Merrill, Wis., writing to Dr. Caldwell, says, she knows of nothing so effective for regulating the stomach and bowels; since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she feels ten years younger; her work seems easier and she has regained her appetite.

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Rocky Mount, N. C., May 16.—At 7:30 yesterday morning Mr. Geo. W. Robbins passed away. Mr. Robbins was one of the best known citizens of Rocky Mount, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was for 15 years postmaster here, and was faithful and efficient in the discharge of his duties.

Mr. Robbins was an honest, upright man, a kind husband and father, and a good neighbor. He was a consistent member of the First Baptist church, and was an honored member of the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Junior Order United American Mechanics.

The funeral was held from the home this morning at 9 o'clock, services being conducted by Dr. Livington Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church. At the cemetery the Odd Fellows had charge of the service.

HOW WILMINGTON WOMEN MAY KEEP THEIR HAIR SOFT AND BEAUTIFUL

Dandruff must be removed and the hair roots nourished to stop falling hair and itching scalp. It is unnecessary to have thin, brittle, matted, wispy or faded locks. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, Parisian Sage rubbed into the scalp is all that is ever needed. The hair roots are nourished and stimulated to grow new hair, even all dandruff is removed with one application, and itching scalp and falling hair cease; the hair appears more abundant and is always soft, fluffy and radiant with life and beauty.

Parisian Sage, a daintily perfumed liquid, is one of the most pleasant, invigorating and refreshing hair dressings known, yet perfectly harmless and inexpensive. After the first application you will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage, for there is nothing that will so help to double your present attractiveness as luxuriant, glorious hair, and this tonic treatment is all that can possibly be desired.

Be sure to get Parisian Sage from R. R. Bellamy, or at any drug or toilet counter, as there is no other so effective.

New York, May 16.—Bishop William Lawrence, of Massachusetts, announced tonight that pledges have been received for $2,500,000, one-half the fund being collected to pension clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal church at the age of 68.

SMALL LOSS IN COTTON

Reports of Beneficial Rains in East Causes Considerable Selling—Prices Later Steady.

New York, May 16.—Reports of beneficial rains in the eastern belt were followed by a considerable selling movement in the cotton market here this morning, but after easing off to to 12.85 for July, prices steadied on covering and re-buying. July rallied to 12.92 and closed at 12.91, with the general list closing steady at a net decline of 1 to 5 points.

Cables wede relatively steady and the market here opened steady at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 4 points with the near months showing gains. Prices almost immediately eased off, however, and the general list worked about 8 to 10 points net lower during the middle of the morning. Liverpool was a good buyer and the market steadied around at 12.96 for October and 13.13 fod December, or about $2 per bale under the high level of last week During the afternoon prices rallied some 5 or 6 points from the lowest. Trading became less active and fluctuations comparatively narrow during the late session. The weather news led to predictions of a more favorable weekly deview from the Weather Bureau tomorrow and to rather more optimistic ideas of the June bureau.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Fluctuations in Market Sluggish and Trading Light—Decline.

New Orleans, May 16.—Fluctuations in the cotton market were sluggish and trading light today. Prices moved within narrow limits and afternoon changes were unimportant. The close was at a net decline for the season of 3 to 7 points.

Around the opening the most active months were 2 to 4 points up in response to highed Liverpool cables than due, but the improvement was brief. Offerings increased on reports of rains in the Atlantic where drouths had been complained of, and still further increased on the forecast of more rain in the Carolinas and Georgia. At the lowest pdices were 11 to 13 points under yesterday's close. Moderate buying met the market toward the middle of the day, causing a partial reaction.

Official spot quotations for the day were unchanged which helped to close the market with a steady tone. Closed steady. Closing bid: May 12.65; July 12.82; October 12.83; December 12.94; January 13.03.

Spot cotton steady unchanged; sales on the spot 995 bales, to arrive 435 bales. Middling 12.75.

STOCKS RISE AND FALL

Upward Movement of Monday Resumed But Fails to Hold—Reading and U. S. Steel Most Effective.

New York, May 16.—The upward movement of yesterday's broad and active market was resumed at the outset today but failed to hold unded increased profit-taking and renewal of liquidation. Selling was most effective in Reading and United States Steel.

Dealings were lighter and more restricted. Rails, with the exception of Reading and Erie, lacked their recent general inquiry. Crucible steel recorded an extreme rise of 3 5-8 points at 88 1-4 but lost over half of its gain.

Mercantile Marines were nevt in favor, the preferred advancing almost three points but yielding on large offerings, while United Fruit was sluggish. Studebaker was the most active with a temporary gain of 2 points and Willys-Overland attained the high price of 276 but closed with a net decline. Mexican Petroleum indicated pressure while American Smelting was strong. Zinc issues fluctuated nadrowly and a brief spurt in American and Continental Cans, the latter at a substantial gain marked the spasmodic movement of the mid-session. Prices became more mixed in the final hour. United States Industrial Alcohol and minor rails developing sudden strength, while seasoned shares became increasingly irregular. Total 645,000 shares. Sterling and francs were firm with marks easier.

Bonds were restricted but steady. Total sales par value $4,410,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

CAMEL VS. THE MULE.

British Soldiers Hate the "Ship of the Desert"

(From the Chicago Daily Journal.)

Associated Press correspondents, writing from Mesopotamia, say that the camel is a most unpopular beast with the British soldiery. They don't like his ways, and as for his works, they are said to be inefficient altogether. After a considerable experience with all sorts of work animals, Mr. Thomas Atkins prefers to be served in a tight pinch by the humble mule, and if the mule comes from Missouri, so much the better.

So far as the camel is concerned, this tale is not a new one. Kipling, who knew the British army better than its commanders, gave the soldier's opinion of camels long ago:

"'E'll gall an' chafe an' lame an' fight, 'e smells most awful vile,
'E'll lose himself forever if you let him stray a mile.
'E's game to graze the whole day long an' 'owl the whole night through,
An' when 'e comes to greasy ground, 'e splits himself in two."

A formidable collection of bad habits, truly, which seem to have no compensating virtues. But the Britisher's fondness for Missouri mules is somewhat surprising. At the time of the Boer war he accused these canny brutes of being responsible for one of his most humiliating defeats. Perhaps, on a calm review of the circumstances of the case, he sees that the battery mules were wise in retreating.

ABOLISHING BULL FIGHTS

Carranza Determined to End Mexico's Cruel "Sport."

(Mexico correspondence of the Christion Science Monitor).

For years the question of the suppression of bull fighting has been discussed in Mexico, but little headway has been gained. Madero gave the so-called "sport" the encouragement of his frequent presence at the "corridas," as Diaz had done for years before. Close contact for centuries with its seductive influences had so cemented it in the affections of the masses that no government heretofore had thought it wise to take any positive stand against it.

It is one of the surprises of the revolution, therefore, that the Constitutionalists have undertaken to institute reforms which strike at the very root of this cherished institution. El Democrata has been conducting a campaign against the spectacle, and announces that it has received many letters commending its course.

Over at Wilmington last Saturday night a score or more of lawless negroes threatened to break into the county jail and release a member of their race who had been convicted of burglary. That's bad business on the part of the colored people over in the New Hanover city and unless they are mighty careful they are likely to start something which they cannot stop.—New Bern Sun-Journal.

D. Ward medal by Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Jr., of Raleigh, marked the closing exercises of the 82nd commencement of Wake Forest College.

The exercises were held in Wingate Memorial Hall. The members of the graduating class were seated in a body in reserved seats. Members of the faculty and the board of trustees and the six senior orators occupied seats on the rostrum. The exercises of the day commenced with the offering of prayer by Dr. O. P. Gifford, of Brookline, Mass. President William Louis Poteat then presented the medals won by the members of the Philomathesian and Euzelian literary societies during the college year.

Following the presentation of medals the judges were announced for the senior oratorical contest, Hon. R. B. White, of Franklin county; Rev. Oscar Sams, of Lynchburg, Va., and Rev. Baylus Cade, of Louisburg.

Mr. E. B. Cox, of Wilmington, appeared as the first orator, speaking on "North Carolina's Imperative Need." After Mr. Cox the following five orators spoke: R. K. Redwine, of Surry county, "Social Inequality"; A. C. Lovelace, of Rutherford county, "Vital Preparedness"; R. H. Taylor, of Nash county, "The Old Time Slave"; Carey J. Hunter, Jr., of Raleigh, "The Effect of War on Literature"; K. M. Yates, of Wake county, "The Neglected Factor in the Rural Problem."

LARGEST CROWD EVER ATTENDS COMMENCEMENT AT CLARKTON

Impressive Address by Dr. Clarence Poe Heard With Much Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Clarkton, N. C., May 16.—Dr. Clarence Poe, of Raleigh, editor of the Progressive Farmer, made the commencement address at the closing of the school here a day or two ago and was heard by the largest crowd that has ever been present on such an occasion here. This was Dr. Poe's first visit to Bladen county and the people were here in large numbers to hear him. In a most convincing manner he drove home the truth that to build up a community you must trai neach individual in it. He declared that so-called cheap labor is after all the most expensive. His talk was interspersed with humor and he held the undivided attention of his entire audience for more than an hour.

Prof. E. C. Shockley, as principal, assisted by Misses Catherine Lapsley, Mary E. Smith and Grace Walton, has conducted the most successful school that the community has had in a number of years.

The brass band from Bladenboro furnished music for the occasion. The baseball game between White Oak and Clarkton teams was very close, the score being 3 to 2.

A concert Thursday night by the faculty assisted by some high school students, and the play, "Kentucky Belle," given Friday night by the high school department, were enjoyed by large crowds, as was the May festival on the lawn in the afternoon.

SLAIN MAN'S ESTATE VALUED AT $150,000 TO $200,000.

Jones County Hermit Left No Relatives to Care for Valuable Papers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 16.—Papers and other valuables of Amos Becton, the rich Jones county planter, who died Sunday from a knife wound inflicted by Bryant Sanderson, a young white tenant, are being kept in the sheriff's office here. The officials removed them to this city because there was no person in Becton's house to guard them. A will for the estate valued at from $150,000 to $200,000 is being sought. Included in the collection of articles are muskets and other weapons a century old, a remarkable Bible printed in 1826, family pictures, colonial candleholders, an ancient violin and other things.

Becton lived as a hermit in a house that once was one of the finest mansions in this part of the country. His parents maintained a typical Southern establishment there, with stables of fine horses, many servants and silver and mahogany worth a large fortune. Becton went to Trinity College. He was one of the best Latin scholars in the State. He was an ideal character in his youth. Taking to drink early in life, he gradually came to live a recluse's life, without human companions, and the once elegant home became a place of squalor. The officers found disorder and dust throughout it.

MR. GODWIN RETURNS HOME TO CONTINUE HIS CAMPAIGN

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Before leaving for home tonight to continue his campaign, Representative Godwin said that the rural credits bill passed by the House last night is one of the greatest pieces of legislation ever enacted. He declared that it would prove more beneficial to the farming interests of the entire country than the Federal Reserve act has proven for the commercial world.

It is generally conceded by all that both the rural credits bill and the shipping measure will be of great service to this country. Representative Webb said that it would reduce the shipping rates just as much as the parcel post reduced the express rates.

Mr. Webb thinks the bill will go a long way towards helping the cotton and tobacco people and all other shipping interests. P. R. A.

Right Rev. Thomas C. Darst, of Wilmington, bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, conducted a most impressive service at Christ Episcopal church Sunday morning and that evening ad at both hours large audieces heard the bishop and were thrilled by his words.

At the morning service Bishop Darst consecrated several memorials, among which were an altar in memory of Mrs. Martin S. Willard, eucharistic candle sticks in memory of Mrs. James A. Bryan, choir stalls in memory of Mrs. Ernest M. Green and memorial doors in memory of the late Captain W. S. Simmons. At the conclusion of the dedication exercises, a class of six were confirmed.

This was Bishop Darst's first visit to Newbern since his marriage a few weeks ago and he was warmly greeted, not only by the Episcopalians but also by the members of the other churches, among whom he has many friends.

Mr. R. H. Mills Dead.

Mr. R. H. Mills, whose home was at Bellair and who was one of Craven county's best known and most highly respected citizens, died there last night at 11 o'clock Mr. Mills was stricken with an attack of paralysis yesterday afternoon and his condition rapidly grew worse until the end came. The funeral will be conducted at Bellair tomorrow morning and the interment made at that place.

Captain Thomas Dixon and family, who resided at No. 35 East Front street, lost practically all of their household furnishing and wearing apparel and had a narrow escape with their lives when their home was gutted by fire early yesterday morning.

Captain Dixon carried no insurance on his furniture, the policy which he had on this, being allowed to lapse several months ago. The building was owned by Mr. Arthur Vincent. Whether there was any insurance carried on this could not be learned.

Maxwell, of the Corporation Commission, just back from Washington where Travis and Cameron Morrison made special arguments in support of North Carolina's opposition to the Virginia Cities' petition alleging discrimination, say they were well pleased with developments and that all signs point to no upset for the North Carolina rates from Cincinnati and other points west.

The improvements will include a material enlargement and re-arrangement of the first floor of the building, while in what is now known as the court in the rear of the building there is to be erected a single story structure 20x60 feet, with a basement which is to be used as a room for filing, etc., in connection with the offices of officials upstairs.

THEY WANT PACKING HOUSE

Business Men of Clarkton Petition Business Men of Wilmington in the Matter.

To the Editor of The Star:

I have read every one of your articles on a packing house for Wilmington, as well as the letters of endorsement from other points, with a very great deal of interest, and am glad to see that the agitation won't down.

You have already pointed out some of the many advantages accruing therefrom to a large territory adjacent to your city, and the half is still untold.

Our county (Bladen) is now tick free and already plans are on foot to get in pure-bred beef type of cattle, and although people are slow to express themselves they are watching Wilmington, and I am glad to see the matter taking definite shape.

I am enclosing herein a petition to the business men of Wilmington asking that they consider this matter from all sides. Yours truly,

E. C. CLARK.

THINK HEALTH

Advice of Chautauqua Lecturer —Says Health is Greatest Wealth.

Raleigh, May 16.—"Your greatest wealth is your health, young man," was the statement of Mr. William Rainey Bennett, Chautauqua lecturer, in his address here Saturday night on "The Man Who Can." Continuing, Mr. Bennett said: "You can have other forms of wealth, but unless you have a healthful body and a healthful mind that goes with it, you are most severely handicapped in the race of life. You that possess strong, healthful bodies, free from disease and dissipation, are the envy of millionaires. I know hundreds of wealthy men who would give all their millions to possess a body that has not been worn out by dissipation, that has not been over-worked by over-feeding, and that has had the care that every sane man should give his body. The man who can is the man who learns first of all that health is the greatest of his possessions."

Again Mr. Bennett said: "Take home with you these two essentials to good health and practice them diligently—the sanitation of your environments and the sanitation of your mind. The first includes cleanliness of the body, of clothes, of food, and of your surroundings, while the other includes cleanliness of the thoughts that enter your mind. Young friends, you dare not allow anything that is not good, that is not clean, and that is not wholesome to enter your mind. Whatever you receive and entertain in this sacred chamber becomes a part of you. You cannot think evil thoughts, much less practice them, without their leaving their impress upon you. Your thoughts make or unmake you."

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.
